Storing Up Social Dynamite

"I have sought to create a set of anxious thoughts in the minds of conscientious citizens," said Dr. James A. Conant, in connection with the publication of his book "Slums and Suburbs: A Commentary on Schools in Metropolitan Areas."

We may hope the one-time president of Harvard has been successful.

He says, with irrevocable truth, that the slum schools, especially in our larger cities, are piling up social dynamite. It is explosive and inflammable. It will become the more so. We have, indeed, for some years been witnessing some of the flames and hearing detonations from this accumulation.

The White Citizens Councils and the Southern congressmen who enjoy the irrelevancy of finding flaws in other regions to distract attention from their own have, for some time, been saying that it is desegregation which has caused the slum areas of large cities in the East and West to be harassed with crime, especially that of various types of robbery and assault.

Conant's Diagnosis

Those who dislike the United Nations actually insist that New York's troubles involving racial conflicts and lawlessness are caused by the presence of the U.N. and its foreign staffs. But Dr. Conant, as have others before him, has the proper diagnosis. It applies, of course, more immediately to the 10 largest cities. But it also is equally a similar problem in any city which has a population growing around industry.

Dr. Conant notes that in the Negro sections of some of the large cities, "Over half of the boys between 16 and 21 years of age are out of work." This certainly is true. But it loses no truth by expanding it. There are, in cities of 100,000 and more population, a growing number in that age group, white and colored, who are out of work. There is another grim fact. They will remain out of work. In addition, their number will grow.

Dr. Conant proposes the immediate creation of 300,000 jobs in federally financed urban public works. This is a sound idea, on the conservative side. It will, of course, be greeted derisively by those who have made a cult out of opposing what they call government spending. They will prefer to let the inflammable material pile up until it becomes a problem impossible to solve by remedial means which presently promise to be effective. This is a very serious business, and it will not be solved unless it becomes a major objective of thoughtful, responsible persons. It is a reality, not a theory.

Public Works

In addition to the urban public works proposal, which would take these uneducated, untrained young people off the streets, Dr. Conant urges a drastic revision of the vocational training and placement programs in high schools.

There is no way to obscure the fact (though many are trying) that American secondary education is well into what is a prolonged crisis. Money will help. But it is not enough.

In 1955 there were just barely 11 million Americans aged 15 to 19 years. In 1958 the total was well over 12 million. Then we began to receive the impetus from the post-war baby boom. The Bureau of Census estimates that by 1965, just a little more than three years away, there will be more than 17 million Americans between 15 and 19. By 1970, a bit more than eight years ahead, the total will be near 20 million. This is not guess work.

The range of jobs for young people 19 and under is steadily declining. Automation and the swift decline of the family farm are increasing the unskilled, uneducated population. We must have a revision of training and a new concept of the demands now placed on secondary education.

We will ignore the steady pile up of inflammable human material in our urban centers to our civic and national peril. It is a national problem, quite beyond the scope of individual municipalities to handle alone.

U.S. Tanks Confront Red Armor

(Copyright 1961 by the New York Times Co.)

BERLIN—U.S. and Soviet tanks faced each other here Friday night. They were less than 100 yards apart on the narrow Friedrichstrasse crossing point on the border between West and East Berlin.

As they remained in position at the alert, the situation was menacing and acknowledgedly fraught with danger. Even so, the direct confrontation was welcomed by the Allies here.

The Russian-manned Soviet tanks rumbled up to the border after the U.S. Army used military force for the third day to escort officials in civilian clothes in and out of East Berlin in defiance of East German controls.

The "fiction" that it was the East Germans who were responsible for trying to prevent Allied access to East Berlin "is now destroyed," asserted Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President John F. Kennedy's personal representative in West Berlin.

"The fact that the Soviet tanks appeared on the scene," Gen. Clay said, "proves that the harassments which were taking place at Friedrichstrasse were not those of the self-styled East German government but were ordered by its Soviet masters."

There were 10 Soviet T54 medium tanks, part of a force of 33

Kremlin Rips Anew At Albania

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

(Copyright 1961 by The New York Times Co.)

MOSCOW — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev told the Chinese Communists Friday that they could seek to heal the rift in the Communist bloc by reforming the leadership of Albania.

The Soviet premier coupled this suggestion with another violent denunciation of Albania and a veiled attack on the ideological opposition of Peiping to his policy of "peaceful coexistence" with the West.

THE BIG WINDUP

Khrushchev's remarks obviously could hardly fail to widen the breach between Moscow and Peiping, the ideological ally of the Albanian Communists.

Khrushchev spoke in winding up the discussion of two major reports at the 22nd Congress of the Soviet Communist Party. These were Khrushchev's reports on the third party program, a plan to establish a Communist Utopia within 20 years and developments within the party since the 20th congress in 1956.

According to a summary issued by Tass, the Soviet press agency, Khrushchev in his speech also expressed determination to press ahead with nuclear testing despite world protests. He said Soviet scientists were doing everything to minimize the harmful effects of the tests.

ADDRESSES 6,000

The Soviet Premier reiterated his readiness to postpone conclusion of a German peace treaty if the West displayed readiness to negotiate. But his foreign minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, at the same time rejected a U.S. protest against East German interference with free movement of U.S. personnel in East Berlin.

The Soviet premier addressed the 6,000 Soviet and foreign delegates at the Kremlin's Palace of

It's Fair and Warm For Football Fans

A pleasant weekend is in prospect, with the U.S. Weather Bureau predicting fair and warmer in Atlanta Saturday and Sunday.

Temperatures are expected to range Saturday from 42 to 72, and Sunday from 42 to a high of 75. The lows are considerably higher than Friday's low of 35. Friday's high was 65.

Meteorologist Dave Miller added that no rain is in sight, due to a stationary high pressure circulation over the Southeast during October.

Saturn Rams 95 Miles Into Space, Giving U.S. Power to Hit the Moon

SATURN IS 11 FEET TALLER THAN THE STATUE OF LIBERTY

Rocket Also Outweighs Her, 925,000 to 457,000 Pounds

Mightiest Rocket Shot Goes Off Perfectly

By BEN FUNK

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The giant Saturn rocket thundered through a perfect maiden flight Friday and the United States at last had the firepower needed to race the Soviet Union to the moon.

With an unearthly scream of its eight engines, the world's mightiest known booster rode 1.3 million pounds of thrust to an altitude of 95 miles then dived back as planned to sink to the bottom of the Atlantic 200 miles down range.

KENNEDY WATCHES

President John F. Kennedy, who has pledged that Americans will walk on the moon in this decade, was among those who watched the awesome blastoff of the 162-foot-long rocket on television.

He had no immediate comment.

Despite the complete success of the initial flight, Saturn will not soon erase the Soviet lead over the United States in booster power. Under the present schedule, it will be at least three years before Saturn is ready to hurl a three-man Apollo spacecraft into orbit around the earth.

And it will be 1966 before the rocket, which then will have a thrust of three to four million pounds, will be able to propel Apollo into orbit around the moon.

SECOND STAGE

Friday's performance does not mean that this program can be accelerated, scientists said. It is being held up by development of the second stage, which will not be ready until 1963.

However, Dr. Wernher von Braun, the German scientific ace who was instrumental in building Saturn, said information obtained Friday will bring improvement of the rocket before the next flight next March.

To plug the gap until Saturn is ready, the Atlas will be mated with a hydrogen-powered second stage next year. This booster, to be called Centaur, will match the weight-lifting power of Soviet vehicles and will be able to drop

DeKalb Revamps Its Police

By GEORGE HUTCHESON

The DeKalb County Police Department was reorganized into three sections Friday by William J. Graham Jr., director of public safety.

The three sections, under Chief Brady Knight, are a new administrative section, uniform section and investigative section.

The administrative section will be responsible for civilian employes, records, communications, purchasing, equipment and service functions.

10-MAN SECTION

The 10-man investigative section, formerly the detective division, will handle departmental investigations and search for fugitives.

Consisting of 93 men, the uniform section will handle all general patrol functions, including traffic and school crossing guards.

Capt. E. T. Wagnon was promoted to inspector of the uniform section. Capt. Ted L. Wayne will retain control of the investigative section with the title of inspector and Assistant Chief Fred A. Howard was made inspector of the administrative section.

LONG-RANGE PLAN

DeKalb Commission Chairman Charles Emmerich said the reorganization is "a part of a long-range program that was set in

Bulldogs Take On Favored Wildcats

Thousands of old grads gave Athens a festival atmosphere Friday on the eve of the University of Georgia's Homecoming Day football game against Kentucky's Wildcats.

The experts predict, however, that it'll be Kentucky which does the celebrating Saturday afternoon in the big Southeastern Conference game.

Sparked by everybody's All-America, end Tom Hutchinson, the Wildcats rule seven-point favorites to win the game and spoil the day for a crowd of more than 30,000 at Sanford Stadium.

Win, lose or draw, Georgia will have the state football spotlight all to itself this weekend. Georgia Tech, breezing along with a 4-1 record, tackles Tulane at New Orleans and rules a 17-point favorite to continue its winning ways.

Elsewhere in the Southeastern Conference, Florida plays host to powerful Louisiana State at Gainesville and Ole Miss' second-ranked Rebels seek their sixth straight win against Vanderbilt at Jackson.

In non-conference action, Auburn takes on Clemson at home, Alabama invades the University of Houston, Mississippi State plays at Memphis State, and Tennessee plays its annual game against state rival Chattanooga.

The Georgia-Kentucky game starts at 2 p.m. while the Tech-Tulane contest gets under way at 3 p.m. (EST).

Coach Johnny Griffith's Bulldogs, still elated over last week's comeback win over Mississippi State, are primed for their best effort of the season in hopes of upsetting Kentucky.

Tech Coach Bobby Dodd fears "over-confidence" in his team's game against Tulane.

State's School Units Polled on U.S. Aid

By REG MURPHY

Constitution Political Editor

Georgia's local school board members will participate in a pilot study to determine how the nation's school administrators feel about federal aid to education.

The 1,128 Georgia board members will be sent questionnaires on which they can express their feelings about the controversial federal program.

Georgia is one of five such states around the nation selected to participate in the study before the board members are polled in every section of the country.

Jack Acree, executive secretary of the Georgia School Boards' Association, said the association

A Bit of Old Georgia Went Along for the Ride

By MARION GAINES

A bit of Georgia rode skyward with the Saturn Friday at the powerful rocket thrust nearly 100 miles into space on its successful maiden flight.

The Georgia parts of the world's largest known rocket were made at Marietta by the Lockhood Aircraft Corporation's Georgia Division—and officials there were counting the Saturn's success as a milestone in the plant's space program.

A Lockheed spokesman said the plant's manufacturing and research teams were "highly elated" by the trouble-free firing of the Saturn at Cape Canaveral.

The booster propulsion system that lofted the 925,000-pound Saturn into space was guarded by high temperature-resistant "flame shields" which were made in Marietta.

Fabrication of these "flame shields" was actually the first big space job for the Marietta plant in the Georgia Division's aerospace program launched less than two years ago. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration gave Lockheed a work order to-

Lockheed Wins JetStar Contract For Millions

Special to The Constitution

WASHINGTON — Sen. Richard Russell was advised Friday that a letter contract is being awarded to Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Georgia Division, to enable it to proceed with production of seven C140 Jet-Star aircraft for the Air Force.

Subsequently, a definite contract will be awarded to supercede the letter contract. It is estimated, Russell was advised, that the amount of initial funding contract would be approximately $4,200,000.

It's Bouncing Triplets For Grandmother, 40

By MARJORY RUTHERFORD

"Life begins at 40" is no idle cliche to Mrs. Frank W. Delidle of 496 McDonough Blvd., SE.

At that age the youthful grandmother is "starting a second family" with three healthy infants born early Friday morning at Grady Memorial Hospital.

Her triplets—bouncing full-term babies—weighed almost 22 pounds all together, attending physicians reported. A seven-pound boy arrived at 12:48 a.m., followed at 1:13 a.m. by a seven-pound, one-ounce girl. A second boy weighed in at seven pounds, 13 ounces at 1:26 a.m.

"Whew!" was the word from the father, truck driver for a Florida nursery firm which serves Atlanta retailers.

Delidle, who had been informed almost a month ago that he could expect triplets, "still can't quite get used to it."

Mrs. Delidle has six children ranging in age from four to 18 by a previous marriage. Two daughters are married, and one is the mother of a nine-month-old boy, Danny Bacon.

The triplets were still without names Friday.

"I'll let the others name the boys," Delidle confided, "but I think I'll name that little girl 'Birdie Mae.'"

He refused to disclose his reason for picking that name, smiling, "It's a long story. . . ."

Grady nurses were agog over the thrice-blessed event.

Doctors said most triplets are premature and below normal weights, but the Delidle infants upset the statistics.

Here Are Some Tricks To Help You Remember

By SAM ROSENFELD

A particular word describes one method of remembering. This word is "association." Remembering things by the "association method" means you tie together something you already know and something you want to learn.

For instance, let's pretend you must learn the names of 10 newly invented carpenter tools so you can recall them later. It will take a good deal of effort on your part to learn these unfamiliar names.

Seventh of 12 articles.

And unless you follow the rule of reviewing each day, you will be likely to forget them within a few days. But let's suppose that a carpenter is given these same names to memorize and is also told he will be tested on them later.

Experiments show that an expert (the carpenter) will learn the names of the tools with less effort than you, and will remember them for a longer time. The reason is that the expert has more "tie-ins," or associations, in the field of carpentry than you have.

Some of the tools may remind him of tools he already owns. Others may be tools that would be particularly useful in the kind of carpentry he does. So, in his mind the new tools are "tied together" with his old tools and with the work he does every day. You, on the other hand, probably know very little about carpentry and the tools used. Therefore, you have fewer tie-ins to help you remember the names of the new tools.

What does all this mean to you? It means that the more you learn, the easier it is for you to learn.

U.S. Demands Free Access To Red Berlin

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

(Copyright 1961 by the New York Times Co.)

MOSCOW—The United States demanded Friday that the Soviet Union restore freedom of movement for U.S. citizens in Communist-occupied East Berlin.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson presented the demand as U.S. tanks in West Berlin confronted Communist forces in East Berlin in a dispute over border transit rights.

Thompson lodged an oral protest with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko against the attempts of East German border guards to check documents of U.S. personnel entering East Berlin.

REFUSES RECOGNITION

The United States refuses to recognize the East German authorities or submit to any of their controls.

Gromyko immediately countered with a protest against what he described as "provocative" actions of U.S. Military Police who had crossed the East Berlin border.

The MPs had gone for three straight days into the Communist sector to escort delegates of the U.S. commandant in West Berlin. The delegates had been stopped by East German border guards when they refused to submit to inspection of their documents.

SERIOUS VIEW

A serious view was taken here of the continuing border incidents, which could flare into an armed clash.

In his 40-minute meeting with Gromyko in the Soviet foreign office, Thompson cited the four-power occupation agreement which guarantees the right of free movement within Berlin to Allied personnel. The agreement permits Soviet officials to check the documents of Western personnel in East Berlin, but does not extend this right to East Germans.

Gromyko's counter-protest was in effect a rejection of the representations made by Thompson. Moscow's support of the actions of the East German authorities indicated that the border dispute would remain unresolved despite growing tension in Berlin.

ONLY TO DELAY

It was the feeling of Western diplomats here that Communist pressure in Berlin would serve only to delay the opening of four-power negotiations on a general settlement of the Berlin question.

GOPs Like Goldwater For 1964

(Copyright 1961 by The New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON — A preference for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination has been indicated in a poll of last year's Republican convention delegates and alternates.

The poll was conducted by Human Events, a conservative Washington newsletter whose columns frequently reflect Goldwater's political views.

The findings of the poll, which were released Friday, showed Goldwater as the choice of 49.3 per cent of those who replied to the questionaire.

NIXON SECOND

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon placed second, with 28.1 per cent, and New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was third, with 16.3 per cent. Approximately three per cent of the ballots were marked for other candidates, and a like number were marked "undecided."

The poll was conducted by postcard ballots mailed to the entire roster of the 2,612 delegates and alternate delegates to the 1960 Chicago convention. Replies were received from 1,380, or 51.8 per cent.

This, according to the editors of Human Events, is an unusually high return for such a questionnaire.

UN Appeals To Russia On A-Bomb

Only Cuba Backs Reds in 87-11 Vote

From Press Dispatches

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—The General Assembly Friday night voted a "solemn appeal" to Russia not to touch off its proposed 50-megaton nuclear explosion. Only the Soviet bloc and Cuba voted against the appeal.

The vote was 87 to 11 with Mali abstaining.

The General Assembly also approved a plan for a globe-girdling network to measure and report on radioactive fallout. The plan would make use of 8,500 observation posts of the World Meteorological Organization, A UN affiliated agency.

Approval of the program was voted without opposition by the Assembly 74 to 0 with 17 states abstaining.

The fallout measurement plan was proposed jointly in a resolution by 25 countries led by Canada who have expressed concern about the sharp increase tests by the Soviet Union.

Moscow broke the atomic powers' moratorium against testing Sept. 1 when it began its current series of atmospheric explosions. So far it has set off more than 30 blasts.

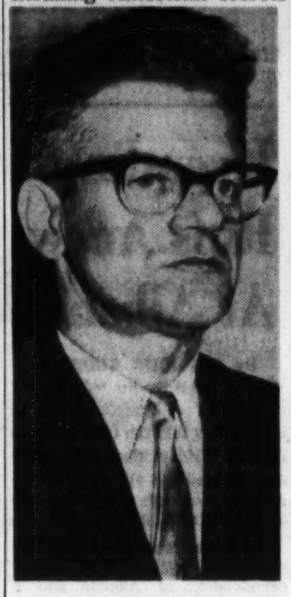
One provision in the newly approved resolution would ask the U.N. Scientific Committee on Radiation to accelerate the preparation of a report on fallout planned for 1962, and consider an interim report.

The Assembly failed to give the necessary two-thirds vote to a rival resolution sponsored by Czechoslovakia, which asked that the report be prepared for the 1962 Assembly as scheduled.

Scarbeck Guilty Of Spying for Reds

By WILLIAM J. EATON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Irvin C. Scarbeck, former diplomat who said he spied only to save his Polish mistress from life in a brothel, was convicted Friday of sneaking American secrets to Communist agents.



Associated Press Wirephoto

CONVICTED SPY

Irvin Scarbeck

The former second secretary of the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw was found guilty on three counts of divulging classified information to the Polish Secret Police (UB).

A federal court jury acquitted the 41-year-old Scarbeck on a charge of unlawfully removing a secret foreign service dispatch from the embassy.

TWICE MARRIED

The twice-married father of four could be imprisoned for 30 years and fined up to $30,000 by Federal Judge Leonard P. Walsh, who deferred sentencing until a probation report is completed in about three weeks.

The jury either ignored or rejected Scarbeck's plea that he disclosed only trifling information to shield his 22-year-old sweetheart, Urszala Discher, from persecution by Red agents.

Scarbeck told the FBI that he was warned the girl might be sent to a Polish army brothel unless he turned over U.S. secrets.

CALLED BLACKMAIL

Government witnesses during the 3-week-long trial testified that Scarbeck claimed he was blackmailed into turning over information after the UB photographed him with Miss Discher, undressed in bed, last Dec. 22.

Scarbeck showed no emotion either in the courtroom while the verdict was read or later while he posed, manacled, for news cameramen.

He voiced great concern for the welfare of his wife, Karen, 37, and their three children. German-born Mrs. Scarbeck, observed the entire trial and vowed to wait for her husband if he were sentenced to jail. She has returned to be with her family in Duesseldorf, Germany.

FREE AGENT

There was no immediate indication of what would become of the frail, black-haired Urszala, who was brought to Washington by the government to testify against her former lover.

She was described as a "free agent" who could either apply for permission to stay in the United States or go back to Europe at government expense. Her Polish passport was obtained with the aid of Scarbeck's contacts with the UB.

Defense counsel Samuel C. Klein said he will appeal the verdict, partly on grounds that Scarbeck's confessions were obtained illegally by State Department security officers and FBI agents.

Paul C. Vincent, Justice Department attorney who successfully prosecuted the case, said the government was satisfied with a "very fair" verdict.

Doubt Aids Reds, Says Johnson

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson declared Friday night that "good Americans" are unwittingly aiding the Communists by planting "seeds of doubt" about the loyalty of the nation's leaders and the fairness of its institutions.

Johnson, in a speech prepared for a University of Florida dinner, said the free world has the overwhelming military strength to defeat the Communists — and will use it in a showdown.

He said the whole history of the world since World War II "has made it clear that the Communists cannot compete with us in economic production or purchasing power."

The Communists recognize this, the vice president said, and can be expected to use the strategy of trying to make Americans "lose confidence in their own institutions and their own leaders."

Johnson said that "good Americans, blinded by partisanship," unwittingly are planting the seeds which the Communists hope to nurture into "weeds choking out the rich strength of American life."

Won't Allow U.S. Troops, Say Thai's

By STEWART HENSLEY

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—Thailand has made clear to Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor that it does not want the United States or other SEATO troops stationed on its territory despite the Communist threat in Southeast Asia, informed sources said Friday.

It also was disclosed that American Marines, rushed to Thailand in March this year to service and maintain helicopters for use in Laos, are being "phased out" of the country. Official sources said the 600 Marines are being replaced by civilian technicians.

Taylor, President John F. Kennedy's special military adviser, was told of Thailand's position in talks with air marshal Dhavi Chulasan, supreme command chief of staff, and other military leaders, the sources said.

Bombers Won't Get Extra $780 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration announced Friday night it will not use $780 million in extra money voted by Congress for more bombers and other defense projects.

A Defense Department announcement said:

"The progress of the administration's accelerated defense buildup makes unnecessary the use of additional defense funds appropriated by the Congress above the amount requested by the administration."

The decision was made by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara with the approval of President John F. Kennedy, the announcement said.

The extra money which Congress urged upon the administration was composed of $514.5 million for additional B52 bombers; $180 million to press development of the B70 long-range, supersonic bomber; and $85.8 million for the Dyna Soar rocket-aircraft research vehicle project.

"The decision to continue our present program was made after a most thorough review of all aspects of the matter," McNamara said in a statement.

"The clear conclusion of this latest analysis was that the progress of the administration's accelerated defense buildup makes unnecessary the use of additional funds appropriated.

"The buildup of our bomber and missile forces, which was recommended by the President and approved by the Congress, will give the nation a nuclear capability several times that of the Soviet Union.

"The decision to continue to pursue this program was reached after review with full participation of the civilian and military leaders of the Defense Department."

Bomb No. 25 Is Exploded By Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia exploded another fallout-producing nuclear device Friday, apparently underscoring Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's intention to go through with his promised 50-megaton blast.

The latest Russian detonation, 25th announced shot since the USSR resumed testing Sept. 1, was set off as the U.N. General Assembly took up a "solemn appeal" to Khrushchev not to unleash the 50-megaton monster bomb.

Friday's blast also added to fears in the United States and other countries about the possible long-range danger of radioactive fallout from the Soviet test series, especially from a 30 to 50 megaton explosion Monday. Experts have said there is no immediate danger.

Rayburn Holds Own

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn received his fourth cancer treatment in as many days Friday with a two-million-volt X-ray machine.

Doctors said in a 7:30 p.m. bulletin that there was "no significant change" in Rayburn's condition. Rayburn, 79, is still in serious condition.

The X-ray machine is being used in efforts to slow the spread of a cancer in Rayburn's abdomen.

Giant Carrier Heals Scars, Joins Fleet

By WALTER CARLSON

(Copyright 1961 by the New York Times Co.)

NEW YORK—The Constellation, built in tragedy, was commissioned in triumph.

Her scars healed after a disastrous fire had taken 50 lives last December, the mighty aircraft carrier joined the Navy as the country's—indeed the world's—largest fighting ship.

It was a day of superlatives for this gray giant of the seas from the very start, when the city showered its affection on her crew and civilian builders in the form of a ticker-tape parade up lower Broadway and a City Hall reception.

In both the noon-hour ceremonies at City Hall Plaza and the actual commissioning later in the afternoon at the New York Naval Shipyard in Brooklyn, the speakers used phrases like: "The finest fighting ship afloat," "The world's most powerful warship," "The greatest occasion of all time."

This culminated with the words of her 45-year-old skipper Capt. Thomas J. Walker: "The greatest day of my life."

What this new weapon in the cold war adds up to is 75,000 tons of steel and highly mobile fighting power. As a floating airfield, with a flight deck of 4.1 acres, she can launch 100 nuclear bomb-carrying planes to targets 1,200 miles away.

As a force in her own defense, she can launch supersonic Terrier missiles, which ride the beam of her guidance radar to ranges far in excess of conventional anti-aircraft shells.

The Terriers are part of an automatic weapons system that detects and evaluates targets, selects the weapon to be used, loads the launchers and fires in a matter of seconds.

But if one is awed by the Constellation's fighting potential, just to stand on the pier beside her or on her flight or hanger decks is to be truly humbled. She stands 25 stories high, from keel to mast, and her over-all length is equivalent to five city blocks.

More than 10,000 persons were on her hangar deck alone Friday for the hour-long commissioning, which began at 3:30 p.m.

British Considering Buildup on Rhine

By DREW MIDDLETON

(Copyright 1961 by the New York Times Co.)

LONDON—The British government is considering reinforcement of its undermanned Army on the Rhine in Germany with troops from overseas garrisons, qualified sources said Friday.

The government also is contemplating alteration of the system under which Army reservists are called to the colors to strengthen Britain's military role in the Berlin crisis, these sources said.

These developments emerged during conversations Friday between Roswell Gilpatric, U.S. deputy secretary of Defense, and Harold Watkinson, Britain's defense minister. The talks will continue Saturday and Sunday at Watkinson's country home.

Gilpatric did not emphasize to the British minister Washington's dissatisfaction with the slow pace of British defense preparations in support of the Allie stand on Berlin. This has been stated in most emphatic terms by Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe, in a communication to this government through military channels.

Gilpatric's restraint was regarded by government sources here as "extremely wise," for the British government is in the middle of a bitter internal dispute over priorities for nuclear and conventional arms.

During Friday's talks the British developed a point of view that bears directly upon the slowness of British reinforcement in Germany.

Reinforcement of allied troops in Germany consequently is regarded as a waste of manpower.

This view directly contradicts that of the United States which is that nuclear war can be prevented if conventional forces on the ground are sufficient to contain any sudden outbreak of fighting. This containment, it is argued, will give diplomacy a chance to avert a nuclear war.

Union Defers Decision On Chrysler Strike

By ROBERT IRVIN

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers Friday night postponed until Tuesday a decision as to whether to officially set a strike deadline for 60,000 Chrysler Corp. workers.

The union's executive board, in a two-hour meeting, made it clear that if a new contract agreement isn't reached by Tuesday it would then serve a 48-hour strike notice on Chrysler.

Thus, in effect, UAW President Walter P. Reuther set a deadline of next Thursday for a complete settlement or a strike at the nation's third largest automobile maker.

Reuther, who set the next board meeting for 8 p.m. Tuesday, expressed confidence that a satisfactory agreement could be reached by then "if both parties apply themselves in serious good-faith collective bargaining."

The union's decision came just hours after Chrysler handed the UAW a new economic package patterned on recent UAW contracts with General Motors and Ford.

Reuther said some parts of the package were unacceptable and promised to work "as hard as necessary" to resolve the problems. The main Chrysler-UAW negotiations will resume Monday morning, Reuther said, but subcommittees would meet through the weekend and local leaders without new plant contracts would come to Detroit Sunday to resolve their issues with top leaders here.

Only 12 of Chrysler's 88 bargaining units were without arguments, however, with eight new settlements reported Friday night.

The executive board, in a four-page statement, said it had been asked by William Simkin, federal mediation chief, not to strike Chrysler and in view of this along with "recognition of the precarious position of Chrysler" and in order to provide the company's new management with a chance to take charge, the board decided not to set a strike deadline at this time.

"... Let Him Hear" MATT. 11:15

by Ben Ragan Austin

Charles H. Scott, in 1895, wrote an exhultant hymn which said "Open my ears, illumine me, spirit divine".

A properly fitted hearing aid can be almost as exhilarating.

One who does not have a hearing loss cannot possibly understand the thrill of hearing again.

Association Big Aid in Learning

In other words, as you become more educated, your mind contains more facts which will automatically tie in with new material. Much of what you already know you learned it this way—through "natural" tie-in or natural association.

What you learn at home (by means of reading, radio, or television), and what you learn at school or anywhere else, may prove important to you later on. You probably do not realize this now. However, when you dislike a school subject, see no value in it and refuse to study it, you only makes things more difficult for yourself. You receive poorer grades and you also cheat yourself out of tie-ins for future learning.

It is unfortunate that so many older children have little interest in poetry. They miss a good deal, for poetry can be thrilling and lovely; it can also be full of excitement and surprises. Some poems paint pictures; others express feelings or ideas; still others tell a story.

SOUNDS, RHYTHMS

Perhaps when you were very young you enjoyed listening to the nursery rhymes over and over again. You liked hearing the sounds and the rhythms, and you had no difficulty with the meaning. You could "see" Mother Hubbard going to the cupboard, and you "understood" what she found.

Now that you are older, however, you may think poems are hard to understand. One reason for the change in your attitude may be the trouble you've had memorizing poems for homework. Possibly your teacher merely said, "For tomorrow, read and memorize the first two stanzas of 'The Barefoot Boy' by John Greenleaf Whittier — on page 97."

Memorizing anything you do not understand fully is hard work. When you understand the meaning of a poem, and when you have analyzed its sounds and rhythms, memorizing it is much easier. And once you have learned the proper way to memorize a poem, a whole new field of interest will be open to you.

HOW TO MEMORIZE

Follow these rules for memorizing a poem:

1. Do not begin to memorize until you know what the poem means. It is much more difficult to memorize meaningless material. Take the time to discover the meaning of each line, and you will find that one idea leads into the next. If the meaning of part, or all, of the poem is still not clear, ask the teacher to explain it to the class. You will probably find that many of your classmates did not understand it either.

2. Read the poem aloud to feel the rhythm and hear the sound of the words.

3. Memorize the poem with the thought that you intend to remember it always. It is a sign of a good education to have a knowledge of poetry.

4. Follow the rules of learning. Do not memorize one or two lines at a time. This breaks up the meaning. Instead, read the entire poem. If the poem is very long, use your judgment and break it up into groups of 10 to 20 lines.

5. Test yourself after each reading. Prod your memory.

6. Review soon after, then later, and later again.

Khrushchev Makes the World Wonder If He Really Knows What Reason Is

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has given the world a dazzling display of how Communist thinking teaches you to meet yourself going in the other direction.

He says Russia is stronger than the United States, but the United States is trying to bully Russia into war.

President Kennedy, he declared, is "faced with the arduous task of overtaking the Soviet Union" in nuclear preparations.

Yet, Russia has to keep going with its fallout-producing nuclear tests because the West is "making preparations to destroy not only the Socialist gains but also the peoples of our countries."

Khrushchev was summing up the 22nd Communist Party Congress in Moscow, a two-week cyclone of words that unleashed enough hot air to melt all the snow in Siberia.

The Soviet premier gave little indication of relaxing the dangerously tense situation in Berlin, but he did again indicate his willingness to put off his Dec. 31 deadline for negotiating a German peace treaty.

Khrushchev said the West must negotiate from "a position of reason, not of strength." And, he added, "reason and justice are on our side, not on theirs."

It depends on how you define reason. And reason to Khrushchev apparently is as elusive as those Siberian snows when warm weather comes.

Get Rid of Speed Traps and Eyesores

Figures disclosed by Gov. Ernest Vandiver indicate that there are several things Georgia can do without much difficulty, if we put our minds to it, to attract more tourists.

Vandiver told the first annual Governor's Conference on Tourism that interviews with nearly 26,000 tourists turned up 15 per cent who objected to speed traps and unrealistic speed limits. Another six per cent deplored eyesores along the highways.

Here, then, are complaints totaling 21 per cent that could, and should, be cleared up without a great deal of trouble or delay.

It would be more difficult and expensive to satisfy right away the 37 per cent who suggested better roads, although the state is making rapid strides toward alleviating this source of dissatisfaction. (Fourteen per cent, by the way, liked Georgia highways.)

Tourists spent $300 million in Georgia last year, and there is no reason why the figure can't be several times bigger—especially when we get rid of speed traps and eyesores and improve our highways.

Anniversary Overlooked By Moscow Congress

As the Communist Party Congress drags on with its endless oratory, attacks on Stalin's brutality and drivel about colonialism, an anniversary has been overlooked in Moscow. Five years ago this week occurred one of the most brutal blood baths in history, the ruthless suppression with tanks and guns of Hungary's brave uprising for freedom.

It was a revolt against Communists and communism imposed by force. The Russians, after a promise to withdraw, returned with overwhelming military power to murder and to again impose a government based on terror and force as a puppet of Moscow. A total of 190,000 chose to flee to the free world.

While Khrushchev talks of colonialism, nations which have only recently attained freedom should take note of this anniversary. Hungarians know the Soviet brand of colonialism, a brutally imposed slavery in which human dignity and even human life mean nothing to a regime placed in power and kept in power by force.

Local Effort Is Miserly In Mental Health Field

Dr. William Rottersman, chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Mental Institutions, is quite right in saying the Milledgeville State Hospital can never be the solution to the mental health problem in Georgia.

The institution is much too large to do as effective a job as should be done. But it could function much better than it is if the state expenditure per patient was brought closer to the national average.

At the same time, a prime need is to reduce the population load or, at worst, to see to it that the number of patients does not continue its upward spiral.

The Georgia Mental Health Center to be built in Atlanta will be no means replace the State Hospital but will be a blessing to it and to the mental health program. It is the greatest single hope, as far as definite planning is concerned, for curing mental disturbances rather than allowing them to become chronic cases dumped onto the heavy load at Milledgeville. It also will provide training for personnel so badly needed in the mental health field.

But while the state has made tremendous progress in raising its standards of patient care and treatment under the Vandiver administration, local effort has failed to keep pace. A prime example is the unused space for psychiatric beds at Grady Hospital.

Will Today's Surpluses Be Tomorrow's Deficits?

Will today's plenty become tomorrow's scarcity?

That's the problem which concerns the nation's conservationists, as outlined to the Southeastern Game and Fish Association convention by Georgia's Gov. Vandiver here.

If crop yields stay at today's level, the governor pointed out, it would require an additional 200 million acres of land alone to produce the extra food needed for the estimated 1975 population of 230 million in this country. He thus joined in the plea that the nation's remaining land and water resources be conserved, improved and safeguarded.

To date the country's farmers have proved more than equal to the task of providing the food and fiber for an expanding population. But examining production statistics within available land and water resources points to real trouble ahead.

Close-up

New State Aid Program for Atlanta

Georgia's Republican chairman, James W. Dorsey, asked the other day where Gov. Vandiver got the million dollars he made available for tuition grants. Specifically Mr. Dorsey wanted to know if Ernie found "another multi-million-dollar typographical error."

Mr. Dorsey referred, of course, to that whopping $4½ million mistake found in the appropriation bill last winter. (There was another $700,000 error found later on, but that wouldn't qualify as "multi-million.")

Well, the answer to Mr. Dorsey's question about the typographical error is simply (or maybe not so simply, at that): "No."

That is, unless the "chargeback" now is being called, besides all those other uncomplimentary things, a typographical error.

For that's where this tuition money is coming from—the chargeback. Here's how:

The chargeback jumped a whole lot more than folks had thought it was going to jump back last spring. In fact, about a million dollars more.

That meant that local school systems would be required to scrape up an extra million for the Minimum Foundation Program for Education. On the other hand, it also meant that the state would have to put up a million dollars less for the Minimum Foundation Program.

This left the governor holding an extra million. After some delays which Mr. Dorsey did not overlook describing, the governor decided to make this million available for the tuition grants.

There's an interesting angle to all this.

Quite a few—maybe most—of these tuition grants will go to parents wealthy enough to have their children in private schools already. And since there are a lot more private schools here than elsewhere in the state, a lot of these parents will be Atlanta folks.

Now the $1 million made available for the grants actually comes, as we have seen, from the 198 city and county school systems scattered over the state. So here at last is a program whereby the rest of the state assists wealthy Atlantans.

Anyway, it's good to see the Republicans up and doing, and Mr. Dorsey was within his rights to ask Ernie for a full account. But if he had demanded that the governor explain the chargeback . . . well, that would have been a different matter.—MARVIN WALL.

Georgia Jumps Up and Down Too

When the Saturn's base flared red and thrust the monumental rocket up to the sky on a cyclone of sound and a great ragged tail of fire, UPI Reporter Al Webb, a skinny young pro who has watched all the big ones at Cape Canaveral, felt the consuming elation he has experienced only once before—the day Commander Shepard went into space.

"All I felt like doing was to stand there with my mouth open, or jump up and down, or something," Webb said.

And that really is how it is—a charge of elation and pride so great that the senses can't quite contain it. A man stands there looking foolish, or maybe weeping while he wears a silly grin, or sometimes simply jumping up and down or something.

This was the big one—the biggest one you can imagine, 16 stories tall. It was a little like launching the Statue of Liberty.

Once we've simmered down and tucked the magnificent sight away into our sophisticated file of accepted facts, however, and fitted the ho-hum mask back on our daily lives, we'll find the Saturn shot will echo for years in the homes of all of us.

Principally, of course, it proved the primary booster that will launch our ultimate rocket to the moon. That great extension of knowledge, and the military and political prestige that accompany knowledge, are the most important rewards.

But in the cold field of economics the Saturn will make thunder too—right here in Atlanta, and Georgia.

Generally unnoticed in the awarding of its billion-dollar aircraft contract, Lockheed-Georgia has been going into the space business. The space headquarters at Huntsville is farming out moon programs.

On Friday's Saturn alone, Georgia's Lockheed plant fabricated a million dollars' worth of flame shields.

The big bird that flew carried Marietta-made thrust rings, bond seal assemblies and antenna radiation shields, pre-tested with nozzles, sprinkler plates, frost shields, well jigs and strain gauges also made at Lockheed. These exotic parts of a wondrous goal—flight to the moon—will multiply jobs on this part of the earth.

Houston and New Orleans are not the only gainers. Neither is Atlanta. Florida will boom but it cannot hold the enormous expansion of moon work. Parts of the whole will funnel into Cape Canaveral from everywhere—but no state is closer than Georgia.

The seacoast of Georgia lies closest to Canaveral, giving us transport advantage. Great bodies of rocket knowledge and nuclear know-how at Marietta and Dawsonville are going to work on this one. Specialized industries should grow like satellites around the South's only research reactor, to be completed next year at Georgia Tech. The state's lands and men are available and ready to fabricate the hides and fuel the chambers of the other thundering eagles that will climb from the Florida cape.

We're jumping up and down with you, Al.

Day Acts Like Man Who Yielded

WASHINGTON — Postmaster Gen. Day, a member of President Kennedy's cabinet, has now publicly encouraged the belief that in this administration pressure by special-interest groups can keep in his job a government employe of whose unfitness his over-all superior is convinced. In a statement only less remarkable for this specific admission than for the fact that it was not followed by the resignation of the postmaster general, he announced that W. W. Law would be reinstated as letter-carrier on a Savannah route, though "I would not want a person with (his) record of conduct delivering mail to my family's home."

Why, then, allow Law to go on delivering mail to the homes of other American families? The postmaster general, acting very much like a man who has yielded to an order from higher political authority to do something he despises, gave two answers which bear all the marks of having been heavily labored.

"I do not," he explained, "want to provide further ammunition for the determined publicity campaign to make a martyr of Law. (And) I must weigh the detriment to our 580,000 employes of this sustained attack against the detriment of retaining this single unsuitable employe in the department."

Implicit is a notice to the 580,000 postal employes that a means by which they can avoid dismissal is a determined publicity campaign, by special interest groups and politicians they influence to make them martyrs. If there is any admission which could more deeply undermine the discipline and morale of the 580,000 employes the liveliest imagination will have to strain to come up with it.

The "publicity campaign" to which the postmaster-general finally surrendered was begun by Sen. Case of New Jersey on Sept. 17. Although the reasons why William Askew, regional postal director at Atlanta, recommended Law's dismissal from the service were not public property, the senator stated the conclusion that they were "trivial and would not justify the drastic action."

On Sept. 19, after a departmental appeals board voted 2 to 1 to reduce Law's dismissal to a "severe reprimand," Askew said he found no new evidence on which to change his original finding. Five days later Clarence Mitchell, Washington director of the NAACP (Law is president of its Georgia branch), told a gathering of the Ohio branch of the organization that in disciplining Law the department had joined with Southern segregationists in trying to intimidate Negroes who, like Law, were pressing for their "civil rights."

On Oct. 24, Postmaster-General Day finally brought himself to affirm the 2-to-1 appeals board recommendation that Law be reinstated with "a severe reprimand." This he announced he had administered. But some inner prompting, which must remain in the realm of speculation along with the suspicion that he was yielding to higher political authority, impelled him to the admission that "a hate campaign" engendered by NAACP and politically affiliated pressures was responsible for his decision to overrule a soundly based finding by a regional director.

Help Is Available In Your Search

All of us need help in making our Christian faith meaningful in our daily living. We are so caught in the demands made on us by the routine of living that there hardly seems time or place for much thought or effort about God. When some crisis comes we frantically search about for spiritual help but too often even here we fail to make connection between God and our need.

For some time in the past we have had the idea that religion was something to help us along our own way. We have been centering our attention on ourselves. We have been willing to believe in a God who would help us be healthy, wealthy and wise as individuals and strong and safe as a nation. We have insisted on living our lives for our comfort and pleasure. If God could help us, fine. If not, then we have pretty well decided to go it on our own.

This has not worked very well. At least dimly we are beginning to see that God demands to be the center of our lives if we are to be His children. We are beginning to hear Jesus as He says that if any man wishes to be His disciple he must leave self behind and take His cross and come with Him. We are just a little nearer to understanding what Jesus meant when he said that if a man seeks to save his life, he shall lose it. We are beginning to understand that our relationship to God must be one of obedience to His will and not that of people who use God for their own ends.

If our true relationship to God is one of obedience then our faith has a central place in everything that concerns us. It makes it necessary to know God's will as he has revealed it in His Word and in Jesus Christ. It makes it necessary to seek this will in every situation that concerns us.

In this search we need help. Books that clearly set forth God's demand for obedience and as clearly point out the way in which this obedience lies can help us in our search and struggle. Such a book is "If With All Your Heart," by Dr. Roy McClain.

If That's the Case, He Would Consider Davis Record Justifies Abolishing House

College Park—Apparently Congressman Davis regards the "postcard" incident as further proof of his viewpoint that the Peace Corps should be abolished.

If we all took this attitude, let me assure you that I would be the first to consider Mr. Davis' record sufficient excuse for doing away with the House of Representatives.

Tech Band Asked To Play Old Song

Decatur—Saturday, Oct. 21, was a fine day for fulfilling dreams. The sky was a brilliant clear-blue and the sun danced lightly on golden helmets. Occasional puffs of wind raised ghostlike clouds from the ancient dusts of Grant Field and in the midst of autumn splendor Tech beat Auburn. It was almost perfect. . . . But one thing was missing; the band didn't play "Up With the White and Gold."

Perhaps this has faded from the repertoire, just as the old Golden Tornado has gone to the Valhalla of football warriors. I wonder if the Jacket band would dust off the old manuscripts and breathe some new life into that fine old fight tune.

School Grant Idea 'Is Not Practical'

Atlanta—If grants are awarded to white persons for attending private schools, the federal courts will require that grants be awarded to Negroes without racial discrimination.

If this is started on a small scale, it is sure to grow into a very large burden administratively and financially.

If one-third the white pupils and two-thirds the Negro pupils insisted on grants, maybe the people now in favor of grants would realize that the idea is not practical or worth the expense.

Thurmond Admirer Blasts Lippman

Savannah—I am writing this letter in protest to the method of commentary employed by Ted Lippman in his approach to Sen. Strom Thurmond's accusation that the military is being "muzzled." The article left me sick at heart. This highly partisan article took me rather by surprise. Needless to say, I disliked the article. I could not help but be amused, yet disturbed by the skillful manner in which Lippman turned the praise to which Senator Thurmond was entitled into a clever condemnation of the senator.

No Handicap From Showers

According to Dahlonega's Jack Parks, a Lumpkin County minister tells of the fellow who came to his house and asked, "Do you marry people?" The preacher said that he did. So the visitor stated, "Well, we'll be over here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning if it isn't raining." Jack says the preacher has been puzzled since over what would have happened had it been raining.

The Dahlonega editor suggests, "Maybe the couple took seriously the old saying that a bride will shed as many tears as drops of rain fall on her wedding day."

If that is true, then October in Georgia has been a happy, happy month for marriages. The only showers have been bridal.

The whole subject reminds me of the boy who wrote his sweetheart: "I love you dearly. For you I would swim the deepest river or climb the highest hill. I'll be over Saturday night if it doesn't rain."

And 75 years ago today here was dedicated America's Sweetheart, the Statue of Liberty. Grover Cleveland was president, the year was 1886.

Loose Talk Makes The Crisis Worse

WASHINGTON—A combination of loose talk in Washington and bad journalism in some parts of Europe is making the German crisis seem worse than it really is. Let a new frontiersman on the Georgetown cocktail circuit give a three-martini explanation of how to settle the Berlin problem, and sure enough it will probably appear in Die Welt of Hamburg two days later as the last mournful word from the White House.

Or if it happens to be Gen. Lucius Clay asking the Germans at another cocktail party in Berlin what they are prepared to do to find a solution to a divided Germany, this becomes an international incident that preoccupies the Western chancelleries for days.

A kind of splashy newspaper war is in progress in the Western capitals which is important only because officials in Bonn seem to be taking it all seriously and forcing officials here to do the same.

For example, an intimate of Chancellor Adenauer, Dr. Kurt Birrenbach of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the West German Bundestag, is now in Washington explaining to correspondents the dangers of a lot of ideas the Kennedy administration is not even considering.

A few days ago, McGeorge Bundy, the President's principal foreign affairs adviser in the White House, felt obliged to take time out from his other pressing duties to explain to the German correspondents in Washington that the United States was really not preparing to sell their country down the Rhine.

Other officials here have been doing the same, but this doesn't stop the flood of alarming speculation and conspirational interpretation about the hard-boiled and soft-boiled officials in Washington who are supposed to be struggling over the future of Germany.

Jean Knecht, the Washington correspondent of Le Monde in Paris, for example, has recently reported that the anti-Germans in the Kennedy administration "following Walter Lippmann's line" are Bundy, Walt W. Rostow, Foy Kohler, Charles E. Bohlen and George F. Kennan. The only really stanch fellows in town, according to Knecht, are Dean G. Acheson and Paul Nitze.

This tidy nonsense is even surpassed by Peter von Zahn in Die Welt who has printed the preposterous conclusion that Walter Lippmann is a sophisticated isolationist who is masterminding a German Munich, and who is failing in his black designs only because the American people are not intelligent enough to understand what he writes.

One result of this has been to increase the sense of anxiety and suspicion in West Germany and to transfer a kind of edginess and gloom to West German representatives here.

Another result has been to help stoke the fires of partisan controversy in the United States over the German issue. German officials here have even been saying that the Kennedy administration's suggestion of "increased contacts" between East and West Germans looks to them like the same thing that led the United States to urge a coalition of the Chinese Nationalists and Chinese Communists during the last war. And it is not hard to imagine what will happen to sanity in next year's congressional elections if that argument becomes an issue.

In fact, the Kennedy administration is already quite conscious of the domestic political implications of any moves they may make toward a new status for Berlin and Germany. This is one reason why Kennedy is now insisting that the West Germans participate in, and share responsibility for, any new basis for negotions with the Russians on Germany.

Saturn Thrust Could Hit Moon

exploratory instruments on the moon to prepare the way for manned landings.

USED FOR MEN

Nova, which is scheduled to succeed Saturn in the program, will be used to place men on the moon with its 20-million-pound thrust. This could come as early as 1967, well before the decade's end.

Only two holds while rocketeers waited for clouds to clear away kept the Saturn from blasting off precisely on time after a flawless 10-hour countdown.

At 10:16 a.m., a high-pitched scream assaulted the ears of Cape watchers as the engines ignited and built up to full thrust while four restraining arms held the struggling superrocket on the pad.

ALL SMOOTH

All eight of the Saturn engines worked smoothly and 3.6 seconds after ignition, an automatic sequencer signaled lift-off. The arms flipped back and with a howl that shook the ground Saturn climbed upward on a massive tower of exhaust flame.

Sixty seconds after lift-off, at a height of seven miles, Saturn was slammed by maximum aerodynamic and atmospheric stresses. When it took them and kept going, right on course, a spokesman said "all hell broke loose" in the blockhouse.

When the 300 tons of fuel had been consumed, Saturn dived into the ocean about 70 miles northeast of little Abaco Island in the Bahamas. It had reached a top speed of 3,700 miles an hour and the flight lasted eight minutes.

WATER BALLAST

Only the first stage was tested. Two dummy upper stages were ballasted with water.

Von Braun, who was in the blockhouse as an adviser, was "very happy" with the outcome of the test.

With him were four top German space scientists who have worked together as a team for many years. The others were Dr. Kurt Debus, head of the NASA launch operations directorate; Dr. Hans Gruene, deputy director; Albert Zeiler and Carl Sendler.

These were key figures in many American space achievements, including the launching of the nation's first earth satellite, Explorer I; the first sun satellite, Pioneer IV; and the suborbital space flights of astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom.

Von Braun gives the United States a "sporting chance" to beat the Soviet Union to the moon, even though the Reds have perfected rockets with an estimated million pounds of thrust. These have been used on several space missions, including the orbital flights of the cosmonauts.

Kremlin Rips Anew At Albania

Congresses as an uneasy mood prevailed in Moscow.

There were mutters of complaints among Muscovites about the spectacle at the Congress of the continuing denunciations of the "anti-party" group. The leaders of the group, which include such old Bolsheviks as Vyacheslav M. Molotov, have retained a measure of respect here for their persons if not for their policies.

Both Muscovites and diplomats here have become disturbed about the possible dangers of radioactive fallout. The Soviet people have not been told about the latest Soviet nuclear explosions, but they know they can expect a detonation soon of a bomb with a force equivalent to 50 million tons of TNT.

In his speech Khrushchev dealt openly for the first time with the role of Communist China as a supporter of Albania.

DEVIATION CHARGED

Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China rebuked Khrushchev for his initial attempt at ideological banishment of the Albanian leadership on Oct. 17. Khrushchev accused the Albanians of adhering to the Stalinist "cult of personality" and deviations from the foreign policy line of the bloc.

Chou returned abruptly to Peiping on Oct. 23 after the Soviet leaders had ignored his plea for an end to the one-sided public denunciations and had continued to castigate the Albanians.

Pressing for denunciation of the Albanian leaders, Khrushchev said Friday that they had passed at breakneck speed from "vows of ever-lasting friendship to unbridled anti-Soviet calumny."

Khrushchev continued:

"Obviously, they expect in this manner to clear the ground for winning the right to free handouts from the imperialists. The imperialists always are prepared to pay 30 pieces of silver to those who split Communist ranks."

A Bit of Georgia Went for the Ride

taling more than $1 million for making the shields.

Since then, Lockheed scientists have worked closely with their colleagues 150 miles away at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., where the basic development of the Saturn was carried out.

Static test-firings of Saturn at Huntsville utilized such Lockheed tools and assembles as nozzles and extensions for a Mach 20 wind tunnel, sprinkler plates for fire prevention during testing and frost shields to protect lines from liquid oxygen.

The Saturn rocket that was fired Friday morning carried other components besides the flame shields that were made by Georgia's Lockheed. These included thrust rings, bond seal assemblies and antenna radiation shields.

NASA has steadily increased Lockheed's participation in the Saturn program since the initial order for flame shields. Lockheed manufactured and installed during the past summer a complete hydraulic-electronic package for test-firing of the Saturn's booster-rocket stages at Huntsville.

The Marietta plant also has been awarded a NASA contract calling for a research study of 6-to-12-million-pound thrust vehicles—which may be the next generation of rockets evolved in the United States' race with Russia to land a manned spacecraft on the moon.

School Units Are Polled On U.S. Aid has examined the questionnaire to be used and finds that board members can make their feelings known regardless of what they think.

The National School Boards' Association is undertaking the survey to determine what its position should be when the issue comes before Congress again next winter.

Observers believe this might be the single most significant poll taken on the question of federal education aid, since the local school boards generally make the financial decisions involving their schools.

Several Georgia school groups have expressed themselves as favoring the aid program, but no poll of the administrators has been undertaken before.

Acree said the questionnaire will be mailed from Washington, but that his group has checked the material and approved it.

U.S., Soviet Tanks Face Each Other

that moved into East Berlin Thursday night, on the Communist side of the border.

They were drawn up in three-two-two-three formations on Friedrichstrasse between Schuetzenstrasse and Krausenstrasse. Their black-uniformed crews remained in the tanks, an unsmiling soldier behind the long-barreled 10-mm gun on each tank.

Down the street, bathed in a garnish light from six high-powered searchlights mounted by the Communists on wooden towers Thursday, four U.S. M48 Patton medium tanks had been posted, the first pair right on the line dividing the two Berlins.

Two American tanks were in a lot just off Friedrichstrasse and another four were in reserve in Mehring Plaatz, about a quarter of a mile away. A number of armored personnel carriers was also in the area.

A field kitchen was set up in a lot off Mehring Plaatz and it looked as though the troops were settling in for at least an overnight stay.

Both the Soviet and American tanks came up to the border twice during the tense action-filled periods between 4:20 p.m. and 6 o'clock, when the confrontation was made.

It was like two chess players trying to come to grips in the middle of a disorganized board with Gen. Clay moving the American pieces and, presumably, Marshall Ivan S. Koniev, the newly appointed Soviet commander in East Germany, the Soviet men.

Shortly after the Russian tanks appeared for the first time the entire 6,500-man American garrison in Berlin was placed on alert. The alert lasted two and a half hours. An American spokesman said afterwards that "adequate forces" would be kept at the ready.

The French command ordered its 3,000 men held in barracks. The British command kept two anti-tank guns in position near the Brandenburg Gate, about 600 yards from Friedrichstrasse, and sent armed patrols right up to the Communists' barbed wire barricades in front of the gate.

So far as the Americans were concerned, the Soviet tanks appearing at the border acknowledged the Allies' claims that the Russians, and not the East Germans, held the responsibility for East Berlin under wartime pacts that established all Berlin as a four-power city.

The Americans were expected to continue sending their officials in civilian dress into East Berlin. If the Russians stopped them, no effort is likely to be made to get them through with force.

Instead, with the issue then squarely between the two great powers, it would be handed over to the diplomats to argue out. The point the Americans were seeking to establish was that the East Germans had no right to control Allied personnel, in or out of uniform.

Methodist Youth To Hold U.N. Workshop Here Today

This being United Nations Week, members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the North Georgia Conference will hold a U.N. workshop at the Northside Methodist Church Saturday.

The workshop is in preparation for a spring seminar at the United Nations in New York in which 50 MYF'ers will be invited to attend.

Saturday's workshop is expected to attract about 150 young people. A registration fee of $1.75 for a training booklet and lunch will be charged.

Speakers at the workshop will be Dr. Bingham Duncan and Dr. James Schell, professors at Emory University. Mrs. Eugene Drinkard will close the meeting with a brief talk.

During the afternoon the students will devide into work groups. Dr. Willard Range, professor of political science, University of Georgia, will lead a group in a discussion of communims versus the free world. Foreign students from Ghana, India, and Jamaica will tell what the United Nations means to their country and them personally. Osmos Lanier, professor of history at LaGrange College, will talk about the U.N.'s concerns and crises.

The workshop will begin at 9:30 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. The U.N. seminar will be held in April in New York.

Noted Scotch Preacher Talks Here Next Week

Dr. Murdo Ewen MacDonald, preacher, lecturer and author from Edinburgh, Scotland, will be guest preacher at the Spiritual Emphasis Week at Morningside Presbyterian Church and Ministers' Week at Columbia Theological Seminary.

Dr. M. E. MacDonald, Edinburgh

Dr. MacDonald will preach at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Sunday at the Morningside church and each night through Friday at 8 p.m. At 11 a.m. each day during ministers' week, he will preach at Columbia.

Dr. MacDonald is pastor of St. George's West Church in Edinburgh. Born on the Isle of Harris in 1914, he attended St. Andrews University and received M.A. and B.D. degrees.

During World War II, he served in the North African campaign with the Cameron Highlanders and then with the parachute brigade. He was wounded and taken prisoner and decorated with the American Bronze star for unofficial service as chaplain to American Air Force prisoners.

In 1956 he was Turnbull Trust preacher to Australia and in 1958 was lecturer at American military colleges. He has been pastor of St. George's West Church since 1949. Dr. MacDonald is the author of several books and a contributor to religious journals.

Some 60 Methodist students from Southeastern colleges and universities are expected to attend a race relations seminar Friday through Sunday at the Interdenominational Theological center here.

The seminar is being sponsored by the National Conference of the Methodist Student Movement, the national organization for Methodist students.

The meeting is planned to provide an opportunity for informal sharing and consideration of theological and ethical questions in the area of race relations.

Principal leaders will be Dr. James E. Sellers, fatulty member of Vanderbilt Divinity School, Nashville, and the Rev. James M. Lawson Jr., pastor of Scott Chapel Methodist Church, Shelbyville, Tenn. Lawson also has been associated with the student non-violent movement.

Jesus May Have Been A Farmer

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Jesus has always been considered a skilled carpenter, but he also may have been good at plowing a furrow or wielding a sickle at wheat-cutting time.

Indications of such all-around rural labor by the Man of Nazareth have come from recently recovered archaeological materials, giving additional insight into scriptural words.

The Rev. Dr. Jerry Vardaman, professor of Biblical archaeology at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, says the evidence suggests that Jesus probably was a "farm hand" who combined work in the field with that of a carpenter.

A NEW DIMENSION

"This extra activity on Jesus' part adds a new dimension to our traditional understanding of His occupation," Dr. Vardaman said. "I am convinced that thereafter we must think of Jesus in a closer relationship with an agricultural setting than we have done heretofore."

Aside from other general implications, the specific clue to this view comes from notations found on ancient records, including a newly discovered item dating approximately from the first century, when Christ walked the earth.

In the writing, the Greek word, "tekton" seems to allude to one who functioned as a farm worker or general handyman. That same word in the New Testament is used to describe Jesus. But it is generally translated as carpenter, mason or woodworker.

FOUND IN COLLECTION

For example, Mark 6:3 refers to Jesus as a tekton, customarily rendered in English as carpenter.

However, an item turned up in a collection of ancient artifacts recently given to the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Ky., clearly implies that a tekton of Jesus' time helped harvest the crops, at least occasionally.

The note, on a bit of clay tablet, says: "Give to the tekton in the month of Mesore (July 25-Aug. 23) with respect to the reaping of wheat, two artabae (measures of grain)."

Dr. Vardaman thus reckoned tekton to mean workman or farm hand, in line with the man's duties. The man also might have been adept with hammer and adze as a carpenter, but he obviously toiled in the field since he was paid for that.

If tekton isn't translated as farm hand, it would at least be more accurate to make it woodworker rather than carpenter, since tektones not only worked on houses but also on wooden farm equipment and furniture, Dr. Vardaman said.

55-YEAR MEMBER ADMIRES PASTOR'S BOOK

Baptists Set Autograph Party For Dr. Roy McClain, New Book

"You can't change the past, but you can ruin a perfectly good present by worrying over the future."

These sound words of advice are found tucked in the pages of a second book written by one of the South's outstanding ministers.

Dr. Roy O. McClain, pastor of Atlanta's First Baptist Church, is the author of "If With All Your Heart." His first book, "This Way Please," proved to be so popular that the publisher secured a contract for another book—completed two years later than originally anticipated.

The First Baptist Church and the Baptist Book Store here have planned an elaborate autograph party for Dr. McClain Monday at the bookstore. The party will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Dr. McClain's new book is not a collection of sermons, although members of First Baptist Church may recognize some of the phrases and paragraphs. Readers of his twice-weekly column in The Atlanta Constitution may also find some familiar words in the book.

His thoughts are expressed in the easy style and power-packed words and illustrations that have made him a popular preacher and speaker.

Dr. Edward A. McDowell of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Wake Forest, N.C., writes in the introduction to Dr. McClain's book:

". . . Dr. McClain reflects the influences of the new movements (theological and religious) but at the same time demonstrates his fidelity to the Bible and the gospel. He reveals his awareness of the world we live in and his struggle to relate the gospel to the problems and challenges of our time.

"It is evident that Dr. McClain, while alive to the seething social issues that confront him and his great church in the metropolis of the South, has not lost sight of the individual in the crowd."

The book discusses such topics as creative versus destructive tension; worry, despair, defeat, functional atheism; existing without living; God's measures of greatness and others.

The young minister, who raises horses for a hobby, has been a frequent speaker on The Baptist Hour radio program. At present he is president of the Southern Baptist Pastors' Conference, which numbers some 30,000 ministers.

From the pulpit he has frequently spoken out on controversial issues that have faced his community.

Emergency $250,000 for Bibles Sought for Indonesian Churches

The American Bible Society is making an appeal for $250,000 to meet emergency needs for Bibles in Indonesia.

An embargo against importation of Bibles to that country takes effect Dec. 23, according to Dr. Robert T. Taylor, executive secretary. The Indonesian government has placed an embargo on all books published in locally used languages in an effort to strengthen the economy in that country.

Local Indonesian churches and mission stations of American churches have requested the supply of Bibles to take care of their needs.

Catholics Turn Sod For Church Today

Ground will be broken Saturday at 11 a.m. for St. Jude's Roman Catholic Church.

The church will be built at the corner of Glenridge Road and Spalding Drive. Services are presently being held in the Sandy Springs High School cafeteria. The Rev. Father John Stapleton is pastor of the church.

Lutherans To Hear Danish Counselor

Two Lutheran Reformation Day rallies have been planned for the Atlanta area Sunday.

The Rev. Paul Hansen from Geneva, Switzerland, will be the preacher for the third annual Reformation Rally service sponsored by the United Lutheran Church in America congregations in the Atlanta area.

The service will be held at 8 p.m. at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer.

Pastor Hansen is secretary for the Minority Churches of the Lutheran Federation. His work takes him into the countries behind the iron curtain for conferences and discussions with Lutheran pastors, bishops and laymen of the countries of East Europe. He is a native of Denmark. His sermon Sunday will be in English.

The service at 8 p.m. will be preceded by the recorded playing of Mendelssohn's "Reformation Symphony" at 7:30 p.m. The "Reformation Symphony" includes one movement based upon Martin Luther's hymn, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God."

These two Reformation Rallies will mark the 444th anniversary of the beginning of the Protestant Reformation, which is dated by the posting of the 95 articles on the church door in Wittenberg, Germany, by Martin Luther on Oct. 31, 1517.

Another city-wide Reformation Rally is being sponsored by the Atlanta Lutheran Council, an organization of laymen of the Missouri Synod Lutheran Churches in the area.

Rev. Oldsen

The service will be held at the Christ Lutheran Church in East Point at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Rev. Armin C. Oldsen, director of religious education and public relations, Concordia High School, Fort Wayne, Ind., will be the guest speaker. His subject will be "The Glory of the Reformation."

Oldsen has just completed a special series of sermons broadcast on the Lutheran Hour, aninternational radio program. He has participated in numerous national conferences and workshops on family life and relations and has been the recipient of medals and awards for these services. He is the author of four books.

First Alliance Church to Hear Talks on Asia

The Rev. Gilbert H. Johnson, new education secretary of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, will be guest speaker at the First Alliance Church Sunday.

Rev. Johnson

The Rev. Mr. Johnson will speak at both the Sunday School Rally Day services and at 11 a.m. He will relate conditions as he found them in the mission field of Southeast Asia, from which he recently returned.

As education secretary, the New Yorker is general overseer of the four colleges which are under the jurisdiction of the alliance—Nyack Missionary College, St. Paul Bible College, Simpson Bible College and Canadian Bible College.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance is a distinctive missionary movement having between 800 and 900 missionaries in 23 mission fields.

Personal Code for Synagogue Lay Leaders Offered at Convention

A code of minimum personal standards of religious practice for lay leaders of synagogues is expected to be offered at the biennial convention of the United Synagogue of America.

The convention will be held at the Concord Hotel in Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., Nov. 12-16. About 1,200 delegates from 734 congregations in the United States and Canada are expected to attend. Three delegates from Atlanta's Ahavath Achim Congregation will be in attendance.

The convention will review the code of standards for synagogue practice adopted in 1957. That code provides for:

1. A ban on games of chance for synagogue fund-raising.

2. Standards of dignity at barmitzvahs, weddings and funerals.

3. A ban on inter-congregational raiding covering both members and staff.

4. The authority of the rabbi as arbiter on matters of religion.

5. Disciplinary measures.

Dr. Irving H. Goldstein, president of the Ahavath Synagogue, said there is a growing trend within the conservative movement of Judaism to broaden the code to include lay leaders. Supporters of this trend are demanding that only men and women whose personal conduct is beyond reproach qualify for leadership in synagogues.

The United Synagogue, representing the conservative branch of Judaism, embraces about 1,400,000 Jews in the United States and Canada.

The theme for this year's convention will be "Torah: A Blueprint for Our Lives." Torah is the Hebrew term for the five books of Moses as well as for the body of Jewish law.

Methodist Youths To Gather Monday

The young people of the Methodist Church in the Atlanta West District will meet Monday for their semi-annual rally.

The rally will begin at 7:29 p.m. at the Tenth Street Methodist Church. Youth from 70 churches are expected to attend.

Rev. W. A. Tyson Jr., pastor of the Carrollton First Methodist Church, will speak on "Youth and the World Crisis."

Emory School First

Emory University's Candler School of Theology graduates more bachelors of divinity than any other Methodist seminary in the world.

Columbia Alumni

Dr. J. Davison Phillips, pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian Church and president of the Columbia Seminary Alumni Association, will preside at the annual alumni meeting Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Gunman Faking Coma, Court Rules

By CHARLES MOORE

U.S. Commissioner Frank A. Holden said Friday the "sleeping suspect" was faking an eight-day coma and bound him and two companions over to the federal grand jury on charges of robbing an Alpharetta bank.

Holden increased the bond on John Thomas (Bud) Brown, who appeared to have gone into a coma shortly after his arrest last Friday, from $75,000 to $100,000, saying:

"He's a potential killer. It's been testified that he tried to kill two policemen after his capture."

SAYS HE GRABBED PISTOL

Holden then added, "If he (Brown) can hear me, he should get down on his knees tonight and thank God that that pistol didn't fire or we'd have had another tragedy like we had here this week (a fatal shooting during a bank robbery).

During the commitment hearing which lasted two days (one of the longest in local legal history), an Alpharetta policeman testified that Brown came out of an apparent coma to grab a pistol and "snap" it at him and another officer. The pistol failed to fire.

Holden reduced the bond on Brown's companions, saying that both were seen in front of the bank shortly before the holdup "but if they were there to make a quick getaway, I don't know. Only they do."

LOWERS BOND

He reduced bond on Leonard Brooks, 40, from $75,000 to $20,000 and on James Donald Ramey, 22, from $75,000 to $10,000.

Earlier in the hearing Friday, Brown's lawyer called Holden to the stand to testify on Brown's physical condition during the hearing.

Holden said that he had seen Brown smoking cigarets and looking around the courtroom. "I think he's faking and that he understands everything that is going on," Holden added.

BELIEVED FAKING

Assistant U.S. District Attorney Robert Sparks also was called to the stand and he also said he thought Brown was faking. He said that doctors at Grady Hospital who had examined Brown on three occasions had reported they believed Brown was "malingering."

Chief Deputy U.S. marshal Leonard Herndon testified that Brown gave the appearance of dozing during his appearances in the courtroom "but when he's not in court, his head is up and his eyes are open."

Brown's lawyer was overruled when he asked that the hearing be continued because he could not advise with his client. Earlier, Holden ordered the marshals to seat the lawyer, W. B. Fincher, while he was objecting to a question Holden had asked an FBI agent. The lawyer sat down before the marshals reached him.

News Fraternity Cites Chapter Here

The Atlanta chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, won an award Friday at the national convention of the society at Miami Beach, Fla. as one of the top charters in the nation.

George Boswell, associate editor of The Constitution and president-elect of the Atlanta chapter, accepted the citation from Ted Scripps, national president.

Atlanta received a third-place award among 65 chapters in the nation. The Ft. Worth chapter won the top award and Akron, Ohio, was in second place. Elmo Ellis, WSB-Radio program director, is president of the Atlanta chapter.

Griffin Rips Liberals in Virginia Talk

LEESBURG, Va. (AP) — Former Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia unleashed a bitter attack Friday night on what he called super-duper liberals who would expand the functions of the federal government at the expense of individual rights.

"They say, 'Do the job,' and preach that the end justifies the means," Griffin said in a speech prepared for a meeting of Virginia Voters for the Constitution.

"Most of these misguided, long-haired men and short-haired women expose the doctrine that centuries of constitutional safeguards should be swept away on the spur of the moment if it means expediting some hare-brained proposal or scheme that they themselves believe is good for the nation," he said.

"Many of us have forgotten the past, have become indifferent to the present and are guilty of being reckless as to the future of this great country," Griffin told the group. He called on the South to urge responsible citizens in other parts of the nation to take a second look at what is going on.

'Y' Holding Workshop On Berlin

An all-day World Citizens' Workshop on Berlin will be held Saturday at the YWCA in observance of United Nations Week.

The program will treat the historic and economic implications and the political and diplomatic problems in Berlin.

Speakers will be Zenon Rossides, ambassador of Cyprus to the United Nations; James Ludlow, U.N. adviser to the assistant secretary of state, and Dr. E. B. Williams, chairman of the department of economics of Morehouse College.

Sponsoring organizations include the Atlanta chapter, American Association of United Nations Inc.; Atlanta Committee on Foreign Relations; United Church Women and the Young Women's Christian Association.

Indonesian Women May Discuss Mating

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia has set up a central bureau for marriage consultation.

It's regarded as another victory for women in their struggle for rights in the almost entirely Moslem nation.

1.5 Million Plant To Be Built Here

Plans to build a water heater manufacturing plant in the Atlanta area which would employ 300 persons were disclosed Friday by Republic-Transcon Industries Inc. of Los Angeles.

The company gave no details as to size or location of the facility.

But informed sources here indicated it probably would be in the 125,000 to 150,000-square-foot class and represent a capital investment of between $1 million and $2 million, including land and equipment.

Milton J. Stevens, chairman of the firm, is scheduled to visit Atlanta Sunday to confer with business and civic officials.

In addition to water heaters, Republic-Transcon makes ranges, garbage disposal units, wall furnaces, utility transformer cases, heating and air conditioning equipment and plastic and porcelain outdoor signs.

Georgia's Tourist Ads Are Praised

Georgia has completed "the most comprehensive travel study by any state," according to North Carolina's advertising director, and has the "freshest and most effective advertising program in the South."

Commenting on the preliminary report presented by Dr. William Keeling, director of business research, University of Georgia, at the Governor's Conference on Tourism, Charles Parker praised the work of the State Department of Commerce and the support given it by Gov. Ernest Vandiver.

He said Georgia will never solve its greatest handicap in attracting tourists, speed traps, until enforcement of traffic regulations is for safety rather than local revenue.

The year-long travel survey included highway interviews, cards given travelers to be mailed back, questionnaires mailed out and interviews made at resort areas.

Howard H. Callaway, director of Callaway Gardens, emphasized the desirability of tourist trade. Tourist, he said, bring fewer problems and do not bring more children to be educated.

Atom Expert To Teach at Tech a Year

Due to the interest and financial backing of an Atlanta couple, Georgia Tech will for one year be the home of one of the nation's most outstanding nuclear physicists.

Dr. Michael K. Wilkinson, recently senior physicist and now consultant at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, has been named the first annual Neely Professor at Tech.

A world authority in applications of neutron diffraction to solid state problems, Dr. Wilkinson has also been a research associate at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He has been brought to the Tech campus through the Neely Visiting Professorship Fund, established by Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Neely of Atlanta.

Disbarment Case In Hands of Jury

WINDER—The jury in the disbarment hearing for attorney Marvin B. Pierce Jr. of Winder was locked up for the night at 10 p.m. Friday.

The jury reported that it had been unable to reach a verdict on a nine-count indictment brought to disbar Pierce. The 11 men and one woman of the Barrow County Superior Court jury, which began deliberations at 5 p.m. Friday, will resume deliberations at 9 a.m. Saturday.

As the final witness, Pierce spent more than two hours on the stand Thursday night. He issued a point by point denial of the state's charges which ranged from forgery and illegal acceptance of fees to alcoholism and immorality.

The Winder attorney said he did not forge the solicitor general's name to any release papers for a juvenile offender, did not join in a plot to charge a $2,500 fee for vacating the sentence of a woman convicted of drunken driving, did not mishandle the proceeds of a contested estate and did not threaten a woman with the loss of her three children if she refused to sign a false warrant for him.

The state had charged Pierce with misconduct in each of the cases.

2,500 Signs to Warn Of Forest Fire Peril

MACON—The people of Georgia were literally sitting on a tinderbox Friday as the State Forestry Commission ordered 2,500 temporary signs up along principal highways warning of the serious fire hazard.

"It's a tense situation," said A. R. Shirley, director of the Forestry Commission, in describing how a combination of conditions had driven the number of fires up to 83 for Friday — a total of more 150 in the last two days.

Ft. Benning to Train All Airborne Troops

FT. BENNING — The Army is transferring all of its individual basic airborne training to the Ft. Benning Infantry School, officials said Friday. All individual basic airborne training will be closed out at Ft. Campbell, Ky., by the end of December and Ft. Bragg, N.C., by the end of January.

Officials said this will boost Benning's paratroop trainee load to 2,300 a month from the present 300 a month.

Cats 7-Point Choice To Upend Bulldogs

Both Seek Third Win

By TED SIMMONS
Constitution Sports Writer

ATHENS — Hard-luck Georgia hosts hard-luck Kentucky in a battle of hard knocks here Saturday afternoon, and the experts say the Bulldogs have a hard row to hoe.

Kentucky is a seven point favorite to win the 2 p.m. Southeastern Conference game at Sanford Stadium.

Regardless of the outcome, the 30,000 expected fans are in for one treat. They'll see a bona fide All-American candidate in Wildcat end Tom Hutchinson, who with Jerry Woolum forms what everybody's calling the best passing combination in the SEC.

Both teams take the field with 2-3 records, but they took vastly different routes to arrive at the same mid-season destination.

Georgia's ill fortune has consisted largely of critical mistakes, poor blocking, the inability to move the football on a sustained drive, and the inability to score when they do get to the goal line.

Kentucky's hard luck was having to open against Miami and then take on heavyweights Ole Miss, Auburn and LSU in three of its next four games.

The Wildcats knocked off one of those, upsetting Auburn, 14-12, and were in the ball game for an uncomfortably long time against the other two. Against Ole Miss, that towering terror of Southern football, Kentucky rolled up 305 yards total offense. Defensively, it limited Auburn's fine backfield to minus 11 rushing yards.

Georgia started poorly, caught on momentarily for a 17-14 victory over South Carolina in its third game, then last week was good enough to beat a sound Mississippi State team, 10-7, at Grant Field.

The offense has been Georgia's main problem. Defensively it has ranged from fair to good. It has its work cut out for it Saturday, particularly in the difficult pass defense department.

Kentucky quarterback Woolum is the sixth leading passer in the is the third leading passer in the nation, Hutchinson is the fourth end," Dave Gash is no slouch.

Woolum has completed 57 of 103 attempted passes for 695 yards. Hutchinson caught 19 of those for 312 yards and three touchdowns, Gash 12 for 142 yards.

On the ground, halfbacks Bill Ransdell and Gary Steward and fullback Howard Dunnebacke pack most of the mail. Ransdell is top banana with 170 yards in 35 tries, a 4.8 average.

The Bulldogs' driving force is halfback Bill McKenny, who had a fine day against Kentucky last year, scoring both Georgia touchdowns on passes from Francis Tarkenton, and setting one of those up on an interception. McKenny can run or receive in an equally impressive fashion.

Homecoming Week

Walter Byers and the NCAA did not decree Saturday as National Homecoming Day. It just happened that way, for Georgia and at least 19 other colleges are welcoming old grads back to the campus.

In fact, no less than ten SEC members are engaged in Homecoming combat. On this day in particular the football team is supposed to win and send the alumni away from the stadium to the evening parties in high spirits.

Outlar

However, some athletic directors have neglected to be far sighted. They have chosen opponents who are likely to spoil the fun before the sun goes down. For example, Georgia is playing a dangerous Kentucky team in Sanford Stadium. Down on the Plain, Auburn is hosting upset-minded Clemson, and Athletic Director Ray Graves is celebrating his second season at Florida with powerful Louisiana State as a guest.

The former Tulane AD, Dick Baumbach, apparently forgot the Homecoming date when he extended Georgia Tech an invitation to the shindig in New Orleans. Otherwise, he would not have selected a foe which has rapped the Greenies only 14 times in 15 games.

You can't say much for the Houston athletic director. He picked Alabama for the Homecoming waltz. Actually, this is a twin homecoming, for Mr. Bear Bryant will be coming back to Texas, the scene of some of his greatest triumphs. Mr. Bryant is apt to have more to celebrate than all the Houston grads. But, of course, this is a game rich in tradition, for the foes already have clashed twice previously.

Tad Smith, the Ole Miss AD, has the easiest assignment in arranging a Homecoming card. The mighty Rebels are odds-on to beat almost any guest.

—Uncordial Guests from Kentucky

For some inexplicable reason, Gen. Robert Neyland did not designate Tennessee's Saturday spectacular with Chattanooga as Homecoming Day in Knoxville. Mississippi State, meeting Memphis State in Memphis, is the only other SEC team playing before a crowd observing nothing but the game.

Georgia officials have assured us that the band, unable to make the trip to Atlanta last week due to a tight budget, will journey to Sanford Stadium.

Though Georgia has knocked off Kentucky four straight, the Bulldogs must stage an upset to ring the chapel bell Saturday.

Blanton Collier is bringing one of the roughest outfits in the SEC to Athenstown, and the Wildcats are a seven-point favorite to do in the Bulldogs. Both teams have 2-3 records, but the Kentucky setbacks were administered by Miami, Ole Miss and LSU. Kentucky beat Auburn at Auburn, a prodigious feat last accomplished by Miss. State in 1952.

In Tom Hutchinson, the pass-catching whiz, the Wildcats have one of the greatest ends in SEC history. The other end, Dave Gash, is also the all-star type. These two catchers have a terrific pitcher going for them. Quarterback Jerry Woolum ranks third in the nation and first in the SEC, having connected on 57 of 103 passes for 695 yards.

Kentucky also has an aggressive line, anchored by center Irv Goode, a gentleman pro scouts label a top drawer prospect.

—Georgia to Lose; Tech to Win

As Collier said before the first punt, lack of depth is the major Kentucky weakness. This statement was certified in the Ole Miss and LSU games. Kentucky trailed the Rebs a mere point at intermission and lost 20-6. They were only three behind LSU at halftime after overcoming a 14-0 deficit and bowed 24-14.

In packaging their first SEC triumph last Saturday night, Coach Johnny Griffith's Bulldogs convinced us of two things. They want to win as much as any Georgia team we've seen in years, but they are a very ordinary football team. Lack of backfield speed and offense in general puts a large burden on the defense. No infantry has been able to run over the Georgia troops, but anti-aircraft guns are inadequate. The passing game is Kentucky's strong point. Pass defense is one of Georgia's problems.

After correctly forecasting the winner in Georgia games for 18 of 19 weeks, we have been wrong now two straight weeks. Hoping to extend the streak to three, Kentucky is the pick here by a 21-10 margin.

Coach Bobby Dodd is hoping that his second visit to Louisiana this year will be more successful than his first. There is reason to believe, of course, that Tech will fare much better in New Orleans than it did in Baton Rouge. The Bengals put the lone blot on the Engineer blueprint, 10-0, but there's no comparison between Tulane and LSU.

At full strength Andy Pilney's Greenies are no powerhouse, and they are now riddled by injuries. Tech owns one of the finest defensive units in college football. Tulane has a sputtering offensive machine, a statement punctuated by the absence of a TD on the scoreboard in three of five games.

With or without Billy Williamson, Tech will flail the Greenies, say by a score of 28-7.

Auburn should rebound from last week's 7-6 loss to Tech and trip Clemson, 27-14. Injury-hexed Florida may surprise, but LSU is the choice here, 24-10.

Tech Invades Greenie Lair

Jackets 17-Point Favorites; Dodd Won't Start Williamson

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Editor

NEW ORLEANS—Georgia Tech meets Tulane Saturday in the Greenie homecoming game in Sugar Bowl arena, a site the Engineers would like to come back to New Year's Day.

According to oddsmakers, Tulane is supposed to be merely another stop on the Tech bowl route. But Coach Bobby Dodd, who sent his Techmen through a snappy workout on the battle scene Friday afternoon, wasn't thinking about the future. He was remembering the past, and talking about close calls the favored Engineers have had against Tulane.

In three of the last four duels, the Tech victory margin has been no more than a TD. But close only counts in horseshoes and romance, and Tech has whipped Tulane in 14 of the last 15 games.

It was only natural that Dodd had memories of things past while gazing at the huge concrete Sugar Bowl. For it was on this football floor that Dodd's Techmen whipped Mississippi, West Virginia, and Pittsburgh in Sugar Bowl pageants and floored Tulane in five of six engagements.

Due to the fact that Tulane is only a one-time winner, a small turnout of some 25,000 is expected to witness this 27th clash under clear skies. Game time is 3 p.m. (Atlanta time).

Though Coach Andy Pilney has pledged that his battered Greenies will go all out in attempt to present the old grads a shocking upset similar to the 1955 success over Auburn, the oddsmakers are wagering that the contest will be no contest. Tech has soared to a 17-point favorite here Friday afternoon.

Several Greenies and Coach Pilney have been bitten by the flue bug this week, but dismissal of end Clarence Moen and center John Chaisson from sick bay Thursday lowered the casualty list. They'll play, but tackle Ed Reynolds, and end John Lasseigne are among those who won't

Left tackle is the slot where Tulane has been hit the hardest. Reynolds is out with a dislocated elbow; Bill Kellum has a

Terriers Rip GW, 20-6

WASHINGTON (AP)—Boston University put together two mighty goal line stands and two touchdowns by sophomore halfback Joe Dipietro Friday night for a 20-6 football victory over George Washington.

It was the second victory in a row for the Terriers, who lost their first four games.

Dipietro scored on a one-yard plunge and an 87-yard run after GW was stopped for the second time inside the five yard line. Prior to Friday night, the 190-pound speedster had carried the ball only three times for a total of 29 yards.

Reserve fullback Roger Kielty scored the final Boston tally on a two-yard plunge that climaxed a bone crunching 67-yard drive against a tiring GW line.

Tigers, Clemson Set For Aerial Battle

By AL THOMY
Constitution Sports Writer

AUBURN, Ala.—Auburn and Clemson charge into a Cliff Hare Stadium intersection here Saturday afternoon for a massive collision between powers of two southern leagues.

The Plainsmen, playing before an expected Homecoming crowd of 35,000, are favored to survive the impact and beat the Atlantic Coast Conference guests by seven points.

Figuring this one is a difficult task, indeed. Each team has averaged 19 points a game, Clemson in five and Auburn in four. On the other hand, opponents have averaged scoring 14 on the South Carolinians and 12 on the Alabamans.

Clemson, with quarterback Jim Parker and Joe Anderson pitching and Atlanta end Tommy King doing most of the catching, ranks eighth in the nation on pass offense. But—Auburn rates third in the country on pass defense. This should be interesting.

"We can pass on anyone," says Clemson's Frank Howard.

Auburn's Shug Jordan might be thinking the same thing, especial-

PACKER FANS HOWLING

HORNUNG TO UNDERGO 10-DAY ARMY EX.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Star halfback Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers, originally tabbed for active army duty next Monday, was directed Friday to take another physical examination requiring a 10-day hospital stay.

Headquarters of the 5th Army said in a statement that Hornung was ordered to report to the U.S. Navy Hospital in Great Lakes, Ill., Monday "for examination and evaluation of his physical condition."

"It is expected that results of this evaluation will not be available for about 10 days," the statement added.

Hornung, 26, a bachelor, who previously was scheduled to report Monday for active Army duty at Ft. Riley, Kan., has had a pinched neck nerve which has sidelined him several occasions.

The Packers' top scorer in the National Football League, along with two other Green Bay stars, linebacker Ray Nitschke and flanker back Boyd Dowler, were recalled as army reservists. Nitschke and Dowler were ordered to report Nov. 3.

The Army summoning of three key performers on the powerful Green Bay team favored to recapture the NFL's Western Conference title provoked considerable protest among Wisconsin pro football fans.

Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., Thursday requested the defense department to consider deferments for the trio. Wiley said he was aware of the manpower need in the armed forces, but suggested there also was need to maintain high morale among civilians.

Wiley said he received many protests from irked Green Bay fans. He suggested deferment of the three until the regular NFL season ends Dec. 17. The NFL championship playoff, however, is scheduled Dec. 31 in the home city of the Western champion which could be Green Bay.

Hornung underwent a preliminary examination Tuesday at the Milwaukee recruiting center and the 5th Army surgeon, reviewing results of that test, recommended the examination at Great Lakes Monday.

It was believed that Hornung will be able to play in Sunday's game against the Minnesota Vikings in Milwaukee and also, possibly, at Baltimore Nov. 5, provided the new examinaiton has not been completed by that time.

Although Hornung will be in a naval hospital, he will be under Army jurisdiction. A Navy spokesman said Army personnel often are checked at Great Lakes because the hospital is extremely well equipped.

It was acknowledged by an Army spokesman that Hornung's examiantion evaluation may require fewer than 10 days. Any question of a leave from the hospital, he said, must be answered by hospital officials.

SATURDAY'S FOOTBALL

Iowa Faces Purdue; Irish, Northwestern Square Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight of the nation's ten top college football teams are involved in conference games Saturday with the scene promising to be rather calm and serene after last week's "Thunder and Lightning" affairs.

The other two teams, Notre Dame, an independent, and Alabama, the Southeastern Conference leader, also seem to be in for an easier Saturday. The Irish, ranked eighth in the Associated Press' current poll, take on Northwestern of the Big Ten while 'Bama, ranked fourth, meets independent Houston.

Three of the top ten—first-ranked Michigan State, fifth-ranked Iowa and sixth-ranked Ohio State—all comprise a log jam in the Big Ten Conference, along with unranked Minnesota, last year's national champion.

This quartet is tied at 2-0 in conference competition and won't meet each other this week. Michigan State (4-0), after key victories over Michigan and Notre Dame, plays Indiana (1-3), Iowa (4-0) will have a bit of a tussle against Purdue (2-2) and Ohio State (3-0-1) is at Wisconsin (3-2) in the national TV game (ABC, 2:30 p.m. EST). Minnesota (3-1) plays Michigan in the annual Little Brown Jug game.

In the SEC, Mississippi (5-0) is looking to extend its defeatless string to 21 games and creep up in the conference standings on Alabama. Ole Miss takes on Vanderbilt (2-3) and a victory would move its SEC record to 3-0. Alabama is 4-0 and the two don't meet this year.

Texas (5-0), ranked third, plays Rice in a Southwest Conference night game that could decide that title and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day. The Longhorns, first nationally in total offense, are 2-0 in the SWC and Rice (3-1) has won its only league start.

Two Southeastern games involve top ten members. Seventh-ranked Louisiana State meets Florida (3-1-1), both sporting 2-0 conference marks. The Gators could catch LSU (4-1) looking toward next week's crucial game against Ole Miss. Georgia Tech (No. 9), with a 4-1 mark, plays Tulane (1-4).

Big Eight leader Colorado (No. 10 nationally) meets winless Oklahoma (0-4) in a conference game. The Buffaloes are 4-0 so far, and stand 3-0 in the conference.

Ole Miss will be coping with one of the country's offensive leaders in Vandy's quarterback Hank Lesesne of Atlanta. He has completed 34 passes for 431 yards and seven touchdowns, has run for 243 yards and has punted 23 times for a 41.1 yard average.

Pat Trammell, the Alabama quarterback who has a total offense record of 750 yards, leads the Crimson Tide against Houston. It will be Houston's Homecoming Game and the Cougars have talked of springing an upset.

Florida will be injury-riddled in its bid to stop LSU. Only Larry Infante of the Gators' starting backfield is in peak shape. Halfback Bob Hoover is laid up with injuries, fullback Don Goodman will start but is handicapped by a knee injury, and quarterback Larry Libertore has an injured back.

In other games involving SEC teams, Georgia tangles with Kentucky at Athens, Auburn hosts Clemson, Mississippi State plays at Memphis State, and Tennessee hosts Chattanooga.

Eastern independent Navy (4-1) tackles Pitt (1-4), Army (4-1) meets West Virginia (2-4), winless Illinois (0-4) is on the West Coast against Southern California (2-3) and California (1-3-1) is at Penn State (3-2).

Princeton and Dartmouth, tied for the Ivy League lead with 2-0 marks, are favored against Cornell and Harvard, respectively. Duke, 3-1 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, can take the lead if it beats North Carolina State while Missouri (2-0) could spring on top of the Big Eight with a victory over Nebraska combined with an Oklahoma upset of Colorado.

In the Skyline, Utah puts its conference lead on the line against Wyoming while Big Five favorite UCLA opens its league play against Stanford.

Other games:

EAST: Rhode Island at Brown; Lehigh at Columbia; Rutgers at Penn; Holy Cross at Syracuse; Colgate at Yale.

SOUTH: Clemson at Auburn; Kentucky at Georgia; Miss. State at Memphis State (night); Davidson at Richmond; Maryland at South Carolina; Chattanooga at Tennessee; Florida State at Virginia Tech; Virginia at Wake Forest; VMI at William & Mary; Furman at Wofford.

MIDWEST: North Texas at Cincinnati; Detroit at Dayton (night); Kansas State at Iowa State; Oklahoma State at Kansas; The Citadel at Xavier.

SOUTHWEST: NW Louisiana at Arkansas (night); Texas Tech at SMU; Baylor at Texas A&M; New Mexico State at Texas Western (night); Arizona at West State (night); Tulsa at Wichita.

FAR WEST: Hardin Simmons at Arizona State (night), Colorado State U. at Montana; Washington at Oregon; Idaho at Utah State; San Jose State at Washington State.

Carry Back Tries Trenton Comeback

Ryan Spells Bratkowski; Damm Wins President's Cup

From Press Dispatches

Carry Back, winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, will try again Saturday to get back into the winners' circle in the $75,000-added Trenton Handicap at Garden State Park.

Opposing the three-year-old colt who has lost three straight since Sept. 2 will be such older horses as Internationally and Divine Comedy, Nickel Boy, Talent Show, Polylad, Mail Order and Black Thumper.

After injuring an ankle in the training ground for big loop talent.

Sports in Brief

Belmont in June, Carry Back did not run again until Aug. 26 when he won the Neptune Purse at Atlantic City. He won the Jerome Handicap at Belmont Sept. 2, but has lost three in a row since then.

MORE RACING: Twenty-seven horses, including American-owned and bred Midsummer Night II, are listed as probable starters in the Cambridgeshire Handicap at Newmarket, England.

HORSE SHOW: Flushed with pride, 18-year-old Carlos Damm Jr. of Argentina received the glittering President's Cup from Mrs. John F. Kennedy as the winner of a feature jumping event tonight at the Washington International Horse show. "Absolutely superb," the first lady congratulated young Damm on his winning ride with Argentina's entry Sherriff in a jumpoff contest. The battle for the coveted cup, awarded for the first time, came down to a jumpoff between Sherriff and the United State's entry, San Lucas, ridden by Frank Chapot, 28 of Wallpack, N.J., who placed second. President Kennedy himself joined his wife in the presidential box at ringside for the first part of the competition before a standing room only audience of more than 6,000 spectators in the National Guard armory.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick announced that the Major League selection meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 27, at the Tampa Terrace Hotel in Tampa, Fla. . . . Mel McGaha, new manager of the Cleveland Indians, said Major League baseball must make peace with the colleges as a future

FOOTBALL—Coach Bob Waterfield named Frank Ryan to start in place of Zeke Bratkowski at quarterback in the Los Angeles Rams' game against the Detroit Lions Sunday. . . . The Oakland Raiders activated two players, Clemon Daniels of North Texas State and Harry Jagielski of Indiana. . . . Both of the New York Titans' best pass catching ends, Don Maynard and Art Powell, may miss Sunday's game against Oakland. . . . Coach Jim Trimble of Hamilton Tiger-Cats said he has taken steps to get halfback George Scott back to playing status in the Eastern Football League.

GOLF—Arnold Palmer, generally rated the No. 1 golfer in the world, had a second bad round in the Australian Tournament, firing a 76 for 156—his worst halfway score in years. Eric Cremin of Sydney, with 72-71—143, took the lead.

BOXING—Farid Salim, the Argentine middleweight champion, makes his United States debut Saturday night at Madison Square Garden against Teddy Wright of Detroit in a 10-rounder.

Miami Rolls By Tar Heels

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Miami's sensational sophomore quarterback, George Mira, returned to action Friday night and guided the Hurricanes to a 10-0 victory over North Carolina on a soggy football field.

Shackled by a torn rib cartilage, Mira had sat out two losing Miami games. Friday night he showed he had finally recovered his old skill as he threw a 40-yard touchdown pass to Larry Wilson in the last quarter.

A 30-yard field goal by Billy Wilson into the teeth of a 20-mile-an-hour wind had accounted for Miami's first three points in the second quarter.

Mira kept the Hurricanes on the move throughout the game and the score might have been considerably higher except for Miami mistakes.

TEXAS STUDENTS VOTE 3-2 FOR INTEGRATION

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—University of Texas students Thursday voted three to two in favor of integrating varsity athletics.

In a campus-wide referendum, with 23 of 26 boxes counted, the vote showed 4,277 for integration and 2,895 against.

The poll has no official meaning. The University Board of Regents sets policy.

During fall registration, pro-integrationists solicited 6,000 names on a petition favoring Negroes on varsity athletic teams. This was received by the Board of Regents without comment. The Student Assembly of the university last spring unanimously approved a resolution favoring such action. Another campus poll last year of 400 students showed 74 per cent favoring athletic integration.

Negroes are not allowed to take part in varsity athletic events although they do participate in intramural games. University classes have been integrated since 1955.

Pass-Pitchin' Lee Douses Decatur

By PAUL ATKINSON

Pass-happy R. E. Lee Institute, alternately gambling and crashing, put down Decatur, 14-0, for an eighth straight victory Friday night.

The victory pushed Lee another notch nearer the 4-AAA East championship, and eliminated Decatur. Lee needs to win one of its two remaining games to give hepatitis-stricken coach Jim Cavan Sr. the sub-region title.

Lee, throwing more than ever, struck for touchdowns in each of the first two quarters, then flashed back the second half with its usual numbing defense to complete the team's fifth shutout of the season.

Matt Arthur, filling in for Cavan, came with a pass attack in mind. And quarterback Tommy Dews' 10-yard pitch to halfback Jim Rice keyed the first TD drive of 45 yards in the first quarter. Fullback Gaines Wilson bashed a big nine and halfback Jim Cavan slithered off right guard for the six-pointer. Wayne Beeland's point-after was good for 7-0.

Guard Jim Williams flicked the football out of halfback Reese Bowen's hands at the Decatur 30 early in the second quarter and Wilson claimed it there. Three plays netted only three yards, so Cavan lofted deep right to Rice for 27 yards and the touchdown. Beeland's point-after finished all the official scoring.

Lee, getting a big lift from Cavan's 30-yard pass to Bill Thompson, seemingly scored from the one as Wilson slipped over. A 15-yard penalty nullified it, and sideback Ben Armistead intercepted Dews' pass at the one-foot line and returned to the Decatur 44 in the third quarter.

Lee's up-front troops, Beeland, Williams, end Tommy Murphy and Jones, made life miserable for Decatur's attackers. They restricted Decatur to a net eight yards rushing, and a minus 19 the second half. Quarterback Dick Eickhoff, Herbert Burgess and Armistead were solid defenders for Decatur.

Cavan, Sr., at home in Thomaston, was informed of the 14-0 halftime score. "My temperature just went down five degrees," he said. Lee could clinch the title at Thomaston Friday with a win over Cross Keys.

Tech Won't Start Williamson Today

bum knee, and Howard Freeman has bruised ribs. In an effort to plug this glaring gap, Pilney has returned guard Gus Ganzales to tackle, a post he occupied two years ago. Soph Mike Calamari inherits Gonzales' guard berth.

Tech, in better shape than the Greenies, still doesn't approach peak strength. For the second week in a row, all-American candidate Billy Williamson may be a spectator.

After watching Williamson run in practice Friday, Dodd said that his ace halfback would not start. "He's running at only about 80 per cent maximum speed, and his ankle is obviously bothering him. I won't decide until Saturday whether he will play at all."

As a result of a glittering performance in last week's 7-6 victory over Auburn, junior Zollie Sircy has earned the starting nod at right half. Joe Auer will spell Sircy if Williamson remains idle.

Tackle Rus Foret and guard Jack Moss, linemen lost for the season, and center Ed Chancey, are others who will view this one from the sidelines.

Tech is aiming for its sixth victory in seven outings, the lone loss having been soaked up down the road in Baton Rouge. Tulane is seeking its second success in five games, hoping to rebound from a 41-0 whaling by Ole Miss last week.

Cats Picked By 7 Points Over Georgia

Rakestraw handles the Bulldog helm, and his efficiency is improving with every game, as is that of the other soph in the backfield, right halfback Billy Knowles.

Perhaps the brightest spot on the Georgia scene recently though is the return to form of fullback Bill Godfrey, a very tough inside runner. The biggest blow was the loss of Len Hauss, a fine sophomore linebacker. Hauss was hurt in the Miss State game, and will not play against Kentucky.

If the Wildcats come through as predicted, it will be the second game they've every won in Athens. They've tried here six times and won only once, 14-7 in 1956.

If Georgia scores a touchdown, Durward Pennington will have a chance to set a new SEC record for consecutive points-after. He kicked his 19th straight against Miss State, tying a record set by Tech's Pepper Rodgers in 1953.

Fast Track Delays Packer, Hawk Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Ever hear of a fast track?

The Chicago Packers had trouble Friday night opening their National Basketball Association home schedule against the St. Louis Hawks at the International Amphitheater.

The game was delayed more than an hour when players went skidding across the court during pre-game warmup.

Officials called out a detail of workers to mop and scrub wash the floor, which had apparently received an over-application of polish.

Quilling Leads Shoot

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — M. Sgt. William Quilling of Buffalo Lakes, Minn., grabbed the lead Friday in the U.S. International small bore rifle prone championships. He scored 585 out of a possible 600.

In second place with 582 was Army Lt. Tommy G. Pool of Groome, Tex. He was followed by Airman 2C Robert F. Morgan of Tacoma Park, Md. Morgan also fired a 582, but scored fewer bulls eyes.

The prone championship will be determined tomorrow when the 27 contestants go over the 600-point course twice.

The only civilian entree, Janet Friddel of Toledo, Ohio, had 565 in the first round.

Clemson Frosh Nip Tech, 14-13

Bailey's PATs Sink Jackets

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP)—James Bailey's two extra points were the difference today as Clemson's freshman football team edged the previously unbeaten Georgia Tech frosh, 14-13, to wind up the Tiger season with a 3-2 record.

Tech scored twice in the third period, going ahead on a 60-yard punt return by Johnny Gresham late in the quarter.

Halfback Hal Davis raced 65 yards to the Georgia Tech three from where Joel Jackson scored to tie the score for Clemson and Bailey delivered his second extra point.

Clemson led in first downs, 11-8; 195 to 119 in yards gained rushing and Tech gained 45 yards passing to 19 for the Tigers.

ly after the aerial success against Georgia Tech.

"Offensively, we have looked good this week, as we did against Tech," said Jordan Friday. "We have been getting some excellent blocking out of boys like Jimmy Putman and Billy Wilson, two veterans who are starting to look real good."

Auburn counters Parker and Anderson and their co-workers, fullback Ron Scrudato and halfbacks Wendell Black and Gary Barnes, with quarterback Bobby Hunt, halfbacks Jimmy Burson and Don Machen and fullback Larry Rawson, all of an explosive nature.

"That Burson and Rawson are mighty fine football players," agrees Howard.

Two Auburn regulars, right tackle Dave Woodward and defensive specialist Sammy Mitchell, will miss the game because of injuries. Up front, otherwise, the Plainsmen line will be intact, led by All-America candidate Dave Edwards at end and linebacker Wayne Frazier.

End Don Downs, absent since the Kentucky game, is ready to resume combat for Auburn. However, he is not likely to start.

There will be three Georgians in the starting field, Burson (LaGrange) on the Auburn team and tackle Ronnie Osborne (Cleveland) and David Hynes (Atlanta) on the Clemson side.

If the game is to be decided by an extra point or a field goal, Clemson claims an edge in Lon Armstrong, who has booted 25 straight points, spanning two seasons, and two field goals this year. However, Atlantan Woody Woodall has been an important cog of the Plainsmen machine, his field goal beating Tennessee in the opener, 24-21.

Homecoming at Auburn is certainly a crossroads for the participants. The Plainsmen (2-2) need it, the Tigers (2-3) need it.

Oddly enough, Clemson catches Auburn after the Tech game. Last week the South Carolinians got Duke after Tech and won 17-7. Next week they take on Tulane, again after Tech.

Mrs. Green Shoots Classic 71; Miss Dobbins Wins Rome Meet

Druid's Mrs. Donald Ross Green had club members and professionals Charlie Miller and Phil Kelnhofer digging through records to determine whether her classic round of golf Thursday, a one-under-par 35-36—71, established a women's amateur course record for the Druid Hills layout.

Two years ago Louise Suggs shot a 69 over the same route.

Fresh from winning the City Handicap and causing more than a mild sensation when she powerhoused her way to the club championship via a hole-in-one, Mrs. Green started her fine round on the incoming nine with a double bogey six when she three putted No. 10 but then settled down to manufacture five pars and three birdies on 13, 14 and 18.

Mrs. Green, an adopted Atlantan who came here from New Jersey four years ago, redeemed two bogies on the front nine with a one-putt birdie on the fifth and a birdie four on the seventh—her eagle putt lipped the cup.

Her playing partner, Mrs. Ridge MacArthur watched agog at the accuracy of Mrs. Green's two shots to the par-five ninth and final green, which left her a 25-footer for a 69.

Mrs. Green went for it but skidded over the cup and three feet beyond to give her the "jeebs". She missed coming back to finish with a 71.

Wolves Cut Reb String As Baeszler Rolls, 16-6

8,000 Watch Stovall Shine

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Marquis Baeszler, who broke a hand as a freshman and an arm as a junior, shattered Brown High's line as a senior and Southwest broke the Rebel's winning streak at seven straight decisions Friday night, 16-6.

Baeszler, astounding a crowd of 8,000 at Cheney Stadium, ran, kicked and tackled Coach Bob Greer's once-beaten Wolves to their seventh consecutive triumph and into the driver's seat in the Western Division City League football race.

The 185-pound halfback, who ate only a bowl of soup Friday after running a temperature of 103 degrees the night before, was still as hot as a feverish fox in a forest fire as he thrashed 88 yards on 17 carries, caught a crucial 11-yard pass, made five tackles and booted a 20-yard field goal and an extra point.

If Baeszler was brilliant on the ground, quarterback Buddy Stovall, who has been accused of being a poor passer, was sensational in the air as the Wolves outgained Jack Peek's favored Rebs, 289 yards to 148.

Stovall made connection on eight of nine passes for 105 yards and a touchdown and stole the spotlight from Brown's more touted Kim King, who hit six of 16 for 81 yards.

Fullback-linebacker Joe Mauldin, second leading gainer with 35 hard yards on 12 lugs, made a remarkable eight tackles even though Brown, which got off only 36 plays to 61 for Southwest, tried only 20 running plays.

The name of Doug Wood should adorn the hero's list for it was this slashing tackle who three times threw Brown carriers for losses at crucial times. And Jimmy Ergle, playing defensive back in place of ailing Al Torbush, also played a vital role.

End Larry Havine was on the receiving end of three Stovall pitches for 56 yards, but the big one was a fine catch by back Steve Limbo of a touchdown toss that put Southwest on top at 7-0 with 3:03 left in the first quarter.

Stovall set that drive in motion 42 yards out by recovering Brown's only fumble, and Mauldin and Baeszler smashed to the 16 to set up the TD and Baeszler's conversion boot.

With Billy Kinard running for 48 yards on three trips and King hitting Ronnie May, Kinard and Charles Casey with 3 passes for 29 yards, Brown cut the deficit to 7-6 just before halftime. Casey hauled in a 7-yard flip for the points but Ergle and Jerry Hartley blocked May's conversion try.

CONDREY PACES 41-7 WIN

North Fulton Rocks Roosevelt

By ED DAVIS

North Fulton High's Bulldogs scored almost at will to defeat Roosevelt in a Region 3-AAA East football game at Ponce de Leon Park Friday night, 41-7.

Quarterback Tommy Condrey was the only Bulldog to score more than once, returning punts for touchdowns of 55 and 45 yards. Mike Russ, Gus Dozier, George Dounis and Tim Woodall scored the others and Paul Purser converted six times.

Roosevelt's Paul Snyder returned the opening kickoff 39 yards to the Bulldog 38, but the Tide never managed to score until the final quarter. Benny Brown bucked over from the one and Lamar Chance converted.

Dozier scored his TD by recovering fumble and running 25 yards with it. Woodall's was on a 45-yard pass play from Bubba Wyche.

ATTENTION BANK ROBBERS

When your conscience starts hurting don't turn yourself in to the police or let them capture you. When the time comes, surrender to me so I can get the $30,000 reward. My recent extra curricular activities caused me to lose thousands of dollars and the reward will help to cover my loss and get me out of a tight spot. Another thing, the bankers have been getting lots of my money for years and it would be nice to get $25,000 of theirs.

AND BANK

robbers by the bunches should not surprise too many people. After all, many of our big bankers, public officials and law enforcement officials have been so concerned about how to force race mixing that they haven't had time to campaign against crime. Fact is, from reading the newspapers one would be led to believe that rape, murder, robbery, graft in government, vote buying, communism, etc. are not too bad. The only thing that seems to be wrong any more is segregation. Those who have racial pride and believe in the purity of their race and wish to maintain segregation (according to the race mixers) are the filth of mankind. Rapists, robbers, murderers, crooks in government, etc., are wonderful people compared to segregationists—so indicate the race mixers.

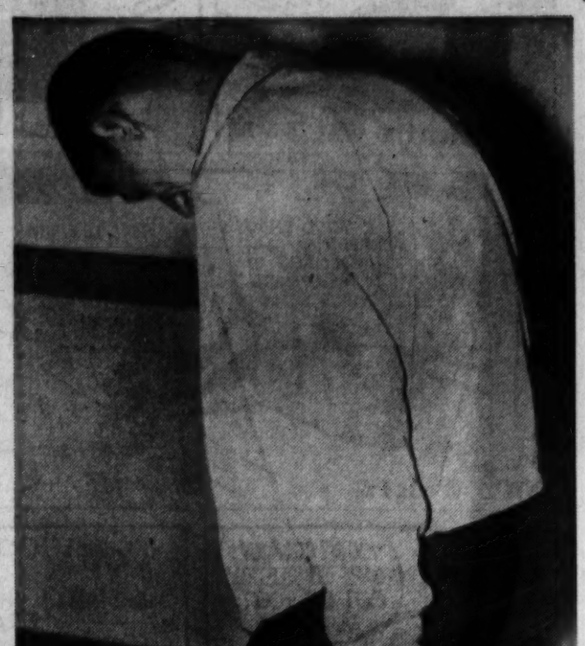
SWIVEL HIPS ARE MAJOR REQUISITE FOR "TWIST"
Eddie Strickland and Beverly Mullis Are Really Getting in the Groove

Rock N' Roll Dances Flourish Briefly, Then Give Way to More Foot-Ticklers



TEENS THINK "SLOP" IS COOL
It May Be Sloppy, But This Shufflin' Dance Is "In"

The music was what you teen-agers call "hot!"

And the swingin' and swayin' that was going on was "strictly top drawer," as you would say.

The shufflin' was pretty good, too. It seems the teens were doing a new dance sensation with the rather indelicate name, the "slop."

"Boy, it's (the 'slop') going good," Eddie Strickland took time to explain between records. "It's just plain stupid—the sloppiest dance there is; but it looks cool!"

WON MARATHON

Eddie's girl friend, Beverly Mullis, recently won the dance marathon at the YWCA record hop, where she and Eddie dance on Friday nights, by doing the "slop" for 45 minutes!

A whole new galaxy of dances, created by and for teens, have made the scene in the last few years. Most bask in the sunshine of widespread popularity for a short time and then make way for another foot-tickler.

As one teen-age boy said when asked about a certain dance, "Aw, that one's real old."

"Like a year, maybe?", we asked.

"Oh, no! I guess it was popular at the first of the summer!"

"PONY" IS OUT

Take the example of the "pony" as a case in point. It was as far "in" as you can get last year. But this year it seems to be about that far "out."

It wasn't cool at all is the general consensus among Atlanta teens who frequent the Y record hop. Pert Bev summed up their feelings pretty well when she said, "It doesn't rock at all. It's just a bunch of hair flopping!"

Here are some terse comments about other new dances that have come out in the last year or so.

"Fly" (mostly a lot of hand waving)—"It's pretty good and a nice way to relax."

"Bristol Stomp"—"The record is fierce (whatever that may mean), but the dance is 'uncouth.' (Another stumper.)"

"Fish"—"It went swimming and drowned!"

"Continental Walk"—"It's pretty good if you don't have anybody to dance with! Actually, it's just a substitute for being a wallflower!"

"Switcheroo" — "All you do is throw a few joints."

"Twist"—"It doesn't do anything but rock."

"UT" (so called because it started at the University of Tennessee)—"Most parents think it's dirty. We aren't allowed to do it at school dances. What do we think? Yes, it is dirty."

BANDSTAND

Many of these creations made their first public appearance on Dick Clark's American Bandstand show. But Atlanta teens don't seem to think too highly of the show. They labeled the crowd who appear regularly on the show as "uncouth"—a word that definitely seems to be "in" this season.

"Atlanta dancing is cool; Bandstand dancing is square." That's how teens questioned summed up the situation.

One thing that is most definitely not square is turns. "Half of most dances is turns," Eddie remarked.

But how do teens learn to do all of these new dances?

ROCKING WITH SOCK

"Mainly by watching other people," Bev explained. "But I have also practiced using a refrigerator handle as a partner or rocking with a sock tied to a bed post!

"It helps a lot to dance with the same person all the time," she continued. "Eddie and I won the dance contest at the Y the other night doing the fast dance. That's how we get all of our records!"

Asked about their favorite dances though, Eddie and Bev quickly named the fast dance — a "better rock 'n' roll type of jitterbug," and the slow dance—a variation of the waltz.

Which all goes to show that though the new may come and go (and pretty quickly in the teen world), the old lingers on and on and—

CONTAGIOUS COMMODITY

'Courtesy Week' Prompts FHA Campaign

Courtesy is contagious. Catch it!

Future Homemakers of America in the Atlanta area must plead guilty this week to spreading an infectious item—courtesy. The mass project is being promoted in connection with "Courtesy Week in Georgia," October 22-28.

At Therrell High School the other day the campaign was in full swing. FHA'ers were busy painting posters as courtesy reminders. And by word-of-mouth reminders, they were spreading that old-fashioned Southern courtesy.

CAFETERIA COURTESY

"We are especially promoting courtesy in the cafeteria," said Linda Morris, Therrell FHA president. "A lot of students leave their trays on the tables when they finish lunch. We are trying to lead students to be more thoughtful about this."

Courtesy mottos on the page with morning announcements also help to keep the campaign on the students' minds. As the week passed, more and more students became mindful of the fact that courtesy was in the limelight.

Soon the lovely young FHA girls had even enlisted some husky males in helping them with their latest project. But then isn't it always true that whenever a bunch of winsome females start a project, handsome males will be following not very far behind?

"There's only one thing that I've been wondering about," remarked Billy Haygood, who was working hard on posters for the FHA project. "How in the world did those girls get posters up in some of the places where I found them? Why, there's even one on the ceiling in the boy's restroom!"

WORTHWHILE PROJECT

"When we heard about Courtesy Week, we decided that this would be something worthwhile to promote in the high schools," said Judy Nixon, president of the Greater Atlanta Future Homemakers of America Council and a Therrell High student.

"It's too early to measure the project's results yet, but if we can help only a few students to be more thoughtful and considerate of others, it will have been worthwhile."

Attitude Will Aid Growth

CHICAGO, (UPI)—If you're a young person finding it's hard becoming an adult, don't feel alone.

A group of researchers said today a feeling that "we're all in the same boat" is one of the best ways to change easily from a young person into an adult.

The reasearchers found three general personality traits helped make the transition an easy one:

—"Very positive" attitude toward new experiences.

—A tendency to keep busy in making the change.

—Enjoyment in solving the new problems.

WEEKLY INTERVIEWS

They conducted weekly interviews with 15 "well-adjusted" seniors at a Washington, D.C., high school.

The AMA said they:

—Recalled past experiences they had mastered.

—Looked upon the transition as another part of growing up.

—Found out about the new situation in advance.

REHEARSE COLLEGE ROLE

—Rehearsed the role of college students by acting the way they thought college students acted.

—Identified themselves with the group which had the reputation for being adequately prepared for college.

—Lowered their hopes of achieving certain goals, such as high grades, cushioning themselves against possible future disappointment.

—Looked upon college as being a friendly place.

Georgia Girl Gets Singer Sewing Prize

Reba Humphrey, thirteen-year-old Macon teen-ager, received a National Honors Award this week as one of 15 finalists in Singer's Young Stylemaker Contest.

She received $400 in cash in the contest in which Mary Jean Barnard, Salt Lake City, Utah; Rita Wituschek, Milwaukee, Wisconsin and Sharilyn Bell, Edmonton, Canada, were Grand Prize winners.

Let Your Imagination Run Rampant in Designing Look-Alike Coffee Mugs To Share With Friends

Long live the coffee break!

Long live the conviviality that can be found only when imbibing with your best friend or best beau!

And the newest thing for tying friendships closer together around the coffee table is look-alike coffee mugs. All over the country, teens are choosing their Mugmates and letting their imaginations run rampant to come up with some of the zaniest mug twins imaginable.

EASY TO MAKE

It's easy to make Mugmates—even for the less than artistic. Once you've come up with a clever theme, you can proceed with alacrity in designing the best thing that's happened to coffee since doughnuts.

First, choose the mugs you want to decorate. Remember that mugs come in many shapes and sizes, so choose the best for your purpose.

If you plan to paint on your design, you'll find that pottery mugs are easiest to use. And they can be baked in the oven to set the design. Heavy glass mugs may be decorated, too, but they are a little harder to handle.

In choosing your paint, be sure to buy colors which are specially prepared for decorating pottery, china, metal and other hard surfaces. Nail polish, believe it or not, is especially satisfactory when applied to pottery. However, for more lasting results, bake the mug in a 300-degree oven for about 15 minutes after polish has been applied.

Though only the real pros should try drawing their designs on their mugs freehand, just about anyone can get satisfactory results by tracing around a pattern or using carbon paper to mark the design outline on the mug.

PASTE-ON DECORATIONS

Some teens prefer to paste on their decorations, though, of course, such designs will not be as lasting. But for quick, easy and attractive decorations, this is your answer.

Use a good quality cement glue in applying cut-outs or decals. Then brush on several coast of clear lacquer, allowing each coat to dry thoroughly before applying the next.

Decals are available everywhere in many varieties. Travel stickers or stickers with school seals can dress up starkly plain mugs. Foreign stamps also make an unusual and most intriguing decoration for Mugmates.

If you know someone who can draw silhouettes, you could use your silhouette on one mug and that of your best beau on the other. These could either be painted on or cut from black paper and glued on.

Or, maybe you know someone who has a knack for drawing clever caricatures. These too will make amusing mug decorations.

Just for a starter, here are a few suggestions that other teens have used in designing Mugmates. Try one of these or come up with your own distinctive decorating ideas.

Faces are always fun. Cut features from construction paper and paste them on. Use circles for eyes, an open triangle for the nose, an up-curved arc for the smile! A wider, deeper arc makes the chin. The hair is the easiest of all, especially if you let the top of the mug come just above the hairline. Get out those paints and make that red hair really red!

Names and initials can be almost as intriguing as faces. Clever writing in a shocking color can make your name and his look mighty interesting on Mugmates.

Your sorority letters and his fraternity letters painted on these mugs are sure winners. Other twosomes prefer to paint the date they met or a few notes of Their Song on both mugs. And, to carry the Togetherness idea even further, half a heart on each mug can get the idea across.

Then there are the hobbies. Sports, cheerleading, painting, dancing, writing, ad infinitum.

Exercise Assures Perfect Posture

It's a known fact that good posture is a beauty basic. But many teen girls cry, "If you don't have it, how do you get it?"

Here's an excercise designed to help you stand as tall as possible. Stand flat against a wall with your head up and your spine perfectly straight. Place your feet about an inch from the wall, toes pointing straight ahead. Now step out, holding this position.

Take That, Jack Paar!

(If you think you have problems now, wait until you write George, c/o The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR GEORGE:

On his show some nights ago Jack Paar said he thought lots of columnists were freeloaders, drunks, deadbeats and so on. What do you, as a columnist, think of Jack Paar?

CURIOUS.

DEAR CURIOUS:

Jack Paar speaks his mind to the extent of chewing out NBC and leaving his own program, in a huff. And I think that anybody who walks out on the Jack Paar show can't be all bad.

DEAR GEORGE:

I am married to a man who was an all-night disc jockey for years. He has one bothersome habit—he talks in his sleep. This would not be so bad, but all he says is the time, temperature and station identification. How can I break him of this habit?

SLEEPY SUE.

DEAR SLEEPY SUE:

Autosuggestion. Whisper to him that network talent scouts are listening and he'll throw in a few funny stories, and possibly do imitations.

Ads Well Read

Reader interest in ads is as high as that in news items. According to the Continuing Study of Newspaper Reading and comparable readership studies made to date — the readership of pages with general news and advertising is as high as 98 per cent with an average of 57 per cent by men; and as high as 99 per cent with an average of 65 per cent by women. If a newspaper ad isn't well-read, it's not because a lot of people didn't read something on that page.

Secretaries Swap Shorthand For Sharpening-Up Session

By JEAN ROONEY
Constitution Club Editor

Some 250 sharp secretaries from over the South covered their typewriters and closed their shorthand books a little early Friday, only to come to Atlanta for a sharpening up session mixed with a little play.

The occasion is the 1961 conference of the southeast district, National Secretaries Assn.

Opening Friday noon, the gals concentrated on polishing up their pleasing personalities during the early sessions. They gathered at Rich's for an open house, followed by a get-acquainted reception Friday night at the Dinkler Plaza Hotel, conference headquarters.

Efficiency experts working backstage throughout the meeting are conference coordinators: Mrs. Grace Dudley and Miss Laura Moody, both of Atlanta.

CAREER PLANNING

Serious career planning begins bright and early Saturday with an "Early Bird Breakfast" followed by a brain trusting session on the Certified Professional Secretary program. This is a high-level training and examination program aimed to raise secretaries to a professional status.

Visiting dignitaries conducting this session will be: Dr. L. M. Collins of New York City, representative of a national business machine firm; and Dr. William C. Huffman, dean of the University College, University of Louisville.

The secretaries' own Ila Westerkamp of Johnson City, Tenn., will moderate. And Mrs. Yvonne Lovely of Oak Ridge, Tenn., district president, will handle the gavel.

Conventioners will catch up on the latest office equipment at exhibitions and demonstrations of futuristic business machines, on display through the convention.

Thinking to the future, they will discuss plans for a National Secretaries Association home for retired members at a Saturday luncheon, under Mrs. Ruth Phelps and Mrs. Odessa Henson's leadership.

Atlanta will be plugged as the site.

A pleasure break is on tap Saturday afternoon to tour out-of-towners through Atlanta's pretty residential section and its historic sites. And an Atlanta-by-night jaunt is available for extra-energetic conventioners Saturday night.

"CHALK TALK"

Cliff Baldowski, political cartoonist of The Atlanta Constitution, will bring the business girls up to date on current events at their Saturday evening banquet. Winner of many national awards and a veteran of several foreign assignments, Mr. Baldowski will give a "chalk talk" on the day's news.

Brainstorming continues Sunday morning at a Food for Thought brunch planned by Mrs. Virginia Burkhalter of Rome, state president.

Dr. Fred S. Cook, associate professor of education at Detroit's Wayne State University, will interpret the boss' viewpoint and tell what's new in business education.

Georgians playing hostess as chapter presidents throughout the two-day gathering include Miss Catherine Jackson, Atlanta; Miss Katherine Crowe, Gainesville; Mrs. Kathleen Shannon, Augusta; Mrs. Eucine Denning, Rome; Mrs. Leuveda Campbell, Savannah, and Mrs. Helen Johnson, Thomson.

Quackery To Be Topic At Meeting

Quackery in many forms, from fake cancer cures to unnecessary vitamin pills, will be discussed at the second annual Consumer Conference of the Food and Drug Administration opening at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 1, at the administration's Atlanta District office, 60 Eighth St., NE.

Some 100 representatives of consumer groups in Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina are expected to attend.

Featured speakers at a luncheon session at the Progressive Club will be Prof. J. Harvey Young of Emory University. He will discuss the drug quackery revealed in his recent book, "The Toadstool Millionaires."

Dr. John N. McClure Jr., representing the Fulton County Medical Society on the program, will discuss "Medical and Nutritional Aspects." Dr. Vernon E. Powell of the medical advisory committee of the Arthritis Rheumatism Foundation will discuss "The Gullible Human."

Harvest Fun With a Punch!

By PATRICIA DEATON
Constitution Food Editor

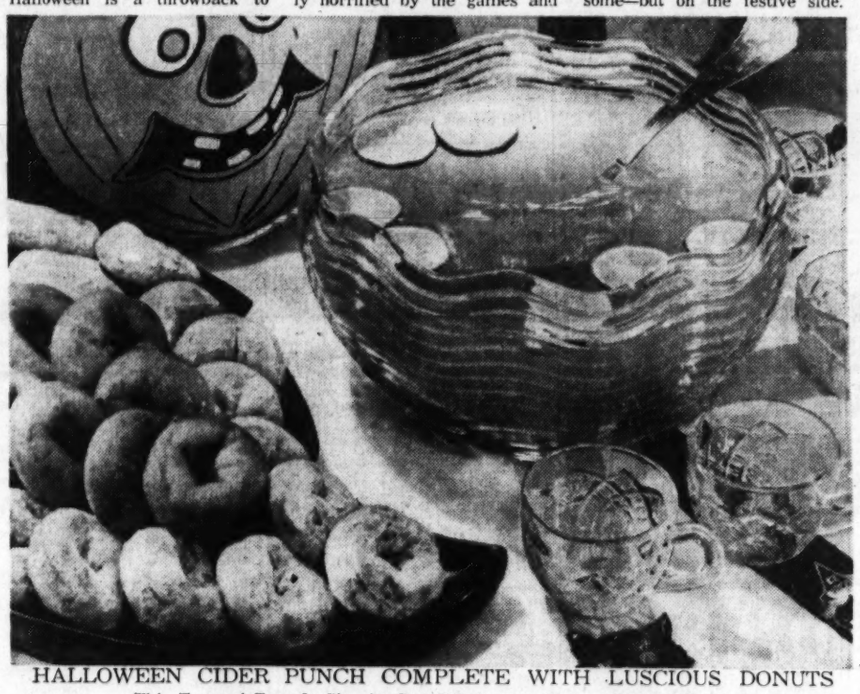
Doughnuts have been associated with harvest time and Halloween in this country ever since Colonial days. And while it's a gay holiday, with a sort of tongue-in-cheek spookiness, Halloween is a throwback to paganism in England many centuries ago.

Fried cakes were given as a charity offering to widows and orphans on All Hallows Eve, while haystacks were set afire to keep the witches away!

Today, youngsters—and probably adults—expect to be mildly horrified by the games and tricks at a Halloween party, but not by the food and drink!

Try this new Halloween Cider Punch, spicy but thirst-quenching, and serve with plain and sugared doughnuts.

Since Halloween is a sort of simple country-style holiday, keep the fare simple and wholesome—but on the festive side. Melted cheese and ham sandwiches, baked beans, potato chips, a big bowl of shiny apples.



HALLOWEEN CIDER PUNCH COMPLETE WITH LUSCIOUS DONUTS
This Type of Fare Is Simple, But Wholesome With a Festive Touch

HALLOWEEN CIDER PUNCH

- 1 stick cinnamon
- 4 whole cloves
- 2 cups apple cider or apple juice
- 2 cups grape juice
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1 split chilled ginger ale
- Lemon or lime slices

Simmer spices and cider together for about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and let stand 30 minutes, then strain. Combine with grapes and lemon juice. Chill well. When ready to serve combine with ginger. Garnish with lemon or lime slices floating in punch bowl. Place a slice in each cup. Serves 6 to 8.

If you prefer serving a spicy, hot beverage than you may want a recipe for the old-standby, Spicy Hot Mulled Cider.

SPICY HOT MULLED CIDER

- 1 qt. sweet apple cider
- 8 whole allspice
- 8 whole cloves
- 1 4-inch stick cinnamon
- Dash salt
- ¼ cup brown sugar, packed

Put cider into saucepan, add spices, salt and sugar; cover and heat very slowly to boiling. Heat should be so low that cider requires about half hour to reach a boil. Remove from heat, strain and serve steaming hot. Makes 5 servings.

Pumpkins and doughnuts are two fall foods which traditionally go together, but never before in one dish!

You are in for a surprise when you taste these fluffy, luscious pecan pumpkin chiffon doughnut squares. Canned pumpkin puree and sugared doughnuts are the basic ingredients in this wonderful party dessert. You can make them up ahead of time and serve them without any last-minute preparation.

PECAN PUMPKIN CHIFFON DOUGHNUT SQUARES

- 6 sugared doughnuts
- 1 tbsp. gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- ¾ cup brown sugar
- 3 tbsp. molasses
- ½ tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. cinnamon
- ½ tsp. ginger
- ¼ tsp. mace or nutmeg
- ¼ tsp. allspice
- 1½ cups canned pumpkin puree
- 3 egg yolks, beaten
- ⅓ cup milk
- 3 egg whites
- ⅓ cup granulated sugar
- ⅔ cup chopped pecans

Split doughnuts into two equal circles. Place 6 doughnut halves, cut surface up, in bottom of a shallow oblong pan (10x6). Soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Combine and mix brown sugar, molasses, salt, spices, pumpkin and egg yolks in the top of a double boiler. Place over hot water and cook until mixture thickens, stirring often. Cool mixture until it starts to set. Beat egg whites until they form soft peaks. Add sugar one tablespoonful at a time beating mixture until stiff and glossy. Whip partially congealed pumpkin mixture until fluffy. Fold meringue mixture and nuts into pumpkin mixture. Pour into oblong dish atop doughnut halves. Top with remaining doughnut halves placed cut side down. Chill until mixture has set. Serves six.

Don't forget the Halloween masks, cardboard pumpkins, and black cats for decorations. And if you light a candle in the pumpkin, keep it away from the fun-and-games area.

Atlanta Yacht Club Opens Regatta

By KATHRYN GRAYBURN
Constitution Society Editor

Inspired by the knowledge that 56 Snipes from nine states will be sailing in their annual Halloween Regatta at Lake Allatoona Saturday and Sunday, ladies of the Atlanta Yacht Club Snipe Fleet are engrossed in entertainment plans.

Kathryn Blackshear

Club members Charlie Chase, Dick McCarthy, Dave Howard Mead and Tom Steward composed the lively band which played for the "welcoming-in dance" Friday evening.

A dinner-dance this evening will follow an afternoon of racing, with a professional combo providing music.

Mrs. Jake Blanton of Marietta is in charge of clubhouse decorations. The theme is "Snitches — half Snipe, half witch." Pumpkins, cornstalks and Jack-o-Lanterns will be artistically combined with nautical props.

Mrs. Sam Norwood is in charge of reservations; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Owens, registration and Mrs. Derek Peters is food coordinator.

Following each day of racing, refreshments, blended by Mr. and Mrs. Rives Hebblewhite, will be served in personalized souvenir mugs painted by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hutcheson of Marietta.

Each skipper will receive a cigaret lighter engraved by Atlanta artist Bradford McFadden with the Atlanta Yacht Club burgee and the Snipe insignia. Visiting ladies will receive orange and black autograph aprons, with art work by Mrs. Jack Wortman.

The Snipe Fleet is under the direction of Yacht Club Commodore Delkin Jones; Snipe Class Commodore Sam Norwood; Regatta chairman Frederic Pember and the Fleet Captain Franklin Johnson.

Many wives will serve as crew for their husbands unless heavy winds prevail.

A highlight of the weekend will be the presentation of trophies following luncheon at the club on Sunday.

THE BALLROOM of the Piedmont Driving Club will be transformed into a Grecian wonderland this evening for the Halloween Ball. The party, which officially opens Atlanta's formal social season, is always climaxed by the presentation of the current Debutante Club to society.

The columns ranging the length of the ballroom will be marbelized for the brilliant occasion, with Grecian urns topping each one. Tables will be adorned with gold candelabra and cascading arrangements of roses, carnations and chrysanthemums in shades of bronze and orange.

For the Grand March, debs will be presented bouquets of Fiji chrysanthemums tinted green and caught with rich green velvet ribbon.

A FORMAL MILITARY BALL, sponsored by the Ft. McPherson Officers' Wives Club, will enliven Saturday evening at the Officers Open Mess. All proceeds will benefit the Army Distaff Foundation.

Mrs. R. W. Whitney, Distaff chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

"AFTER THE BALL IS OVER" will be the theme of the breakfast Sunday which will honor Elizabeth Wight, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wight Jr. The party will assemble a group of debs and their escorts at the Driving Club.

Miss Wight

Hosts will be Mrs. Ward Wight and her sons and daughters: Col and Mrs. Richard Beard, Mr. and Mrs. John Cherry, Dr. and Mrs. Allen McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Wight.

The centerpiece for the buffet table is sure to be a "conversation piece." A real pumpkin will be painted gold and equipped with wheels, curtained windows and a door to resemble Cinderella's coach. Miniature plumed white horses will draw the coach, carrying out the gold and white color scheme.

MRS. CHARLES R. YOUNTS, alumnae representative to the Hollins College board of trustees, is attending a meeting of the board of directors on the campus this weekend.

Atlantan at Safety Meet

R. A. Campbell of Illinois, new president of the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators, is congratulated by Mrs. J. J. Stephenson Jr. of Atlanta at the 9th annual meeting of the association, held in Chicago. Mrs. Stephenson, of the Safety Education Division, Georgia State Patrol, represented Capt. W. A. Jones, Atlanta Department of Public Safety, at the meeting.

Cotton Moves Narrowly

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed unchanged to 25 cents a bale higher. Prices fluctuated in a narrow range, with commission house buying and trade covering meeting light hedging and liquidation. There was some switching from nearby December to May. Part of the buying was attributed to the steady price tone in primary spot cotton markets.

Georgia Poultry

Broilers and fryers. Live market unchanged pricewise though undertone unsettled as ready-to-cook demand generally slow. Most ready-to-cook buyers reported as taking a wait and see position. Live supplies limited though fully adequate for the dull demand. Payments for broilers and fryers delivered to plants range from ½-1¼c per lb. above reported at-farm prices.

Estimated slaughter by Georgia processors Friday and Saturday, 1,455,000 head, compared to 1,679,000 head last weekend. Georgia Poultry Exchange Thursday offered 93,500 head, and sold 73,100 head ranging from 12.4-13c per lb. Buyers' tentative paying prices per lb. ranged at farms, 11-13c, most 12c, on 1,289,000 head, which were not priced prior to Friday's and Saturday's movement (includes intra-company transfers). Prices paid per lb. Thursday including sales on exchange: Broilers and fryers, 3-4 lbs., at farms 12-13c, 695,000 head. 30 per cent at 12c, 3 per cent at 12.25-12.4c, 16 per cent at 12.5-12.9c, 2 per cent at 13c, 48 per cent intra-company transfers, 1 per cent undetermined.

Hens. Heavy type continues short of needs in most instances. Demand fair. Light type quiet. Estimated slaughter of heavy type, 30,100 head; light type none. Prices paid per lb. for broiler-breeder, heavy type, at farms, 14½-15c, F.O.B. plants, 15-16c. Light type, too few to report. Old roosters, heavy type, at farms, 5c, F.O.B. plants, 6c.

TWA Is Ending Piston Engine Atlantic Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When Trans World Airlines' flight 905 lands at New York's Idlewild Airport Saturday morning, it will mark the end of an aviation era for the airline.

The big Constellation will be completing the final TWA piston-engine flight across the Atlantic—recording the last of 7.5 billion passenger miles flown on overseas flights since 1946.

In that period, TWA Constellations have carried more than two million passengers across the Atlantic.

W. B. Stowe

LITHONIA — Funeral services will be held Sunday for William Berry Stowe, 78, at Lenora Baptist Church. Time of the services will be announced.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Langley of Decatur; a son, James B. Stowe of Clarkston and two sisters, Mrs. Julia Coker and Miss Annie Lou Stowe, both of Logansville.

Coffee Futures

NEW YORK (AP)—Coffee futures were mixed. Liquidation and hedging brought early declines. The "B" contract recovered most of its losses on commission house and dealer buying.

Reports of a better roaster demand for Central American mild coffees and tight supplies of those types of coffee helped the "M" contract to advance.

Coffee spot Santos No. 4 ex-dock closed at 33.75a. Cost and freight offerings include: Santos Bourbons 3s at 33.50a and 5s 32.50a.

"B" futures closed 1 lower to 24 higher. Sales 134 contracts.

Sugar Futures

NEW YORK (AP)—World sugar futures were irregular, with trade houses on both sides of the market. World raws were quoted at 2.65 cents a pound, loaded in the vessel.

Domestic futures were quiet.

In the domestic raw market, sellers asked 6.35 cents a pound delivered.

Demand for refined was fair.

Domestic sugar futures No. 7 closed with no sales.

World sugar futures No. 8 closed 1 lower to 3 higher. Sales 7 contracts.

BLUEPRINT FOR YOUR SON'S LIFE

GOOD HABITS formed early in life are the foundation stones of sound character development. Parents cannot hand their son such ready-made habits on a silver platter. But fortunately there is a way to accomplish this same objective — provide the boy with an opportunity which will enable him to develop the habits himself. The best opportunity exists in newspaperboy training.

A BOY with his own newspaper route develops initiative, tact, thrift, punctuality and friendliness. He learns the tremendous inner satisfaction which can come from serving mankind in a worthwhile endeavor. It's no surprise parents consider newspaperboy training a fine blueprint for their son's successful future.

GET your son to apply for an Atlanta Journal or Atlanta Constitution newspaper route by completing the form below and mailing it today.
